

$700,000 School House Bill Held Up

Sheriff Collected $23 for Each Leased Convict

BILL TO BORROW $700,000 FOR NEW SOUTH END SCHOOL BUILDING IS NOT COMPLETE

Bill is Returned for Correction—Must Be Accompanied by Petition Signed by Proponents of the Measure, Including the Mayor and School Board Members—Bill Will Be Introduced by Representative Corbett

The bill authorizing the City of Lowell to go outside the debt limit to borrow $700,000 for the purpose of erecting a new grammar school building in the South End district, framed yesterday by James J. Bruhn, school committee member and forwarded to the state house, was returned to the city today for correction and reamendment.

The bill was presented to Henry L. Williams, business agent for the school department by Representative Thomas J. Corbett this forenoon, with the recommendation that it be corrected in a few minor details and accompanied by a formal petition covering it to be signed by proponents of the measure.

Saco-Lowell Shops Begin Work of Razing Houses to Make Room for Manufacturing Buildings

WORKMEN RAZING FAMILIAR TENEMENT PROPERTY

If officials of the Saco-Lowell shops at the hearing to be held before the city council tonight can convince members of that body that they have a definite plan of expansion ready to put into operation on the large tract of land opposite their Dutton street plant, the chances are the council will look with favor upon their petition to close a portion of Worthen street.

The only barrier would be an opinion from the law department that it would be illegal to close the street, a question raised by proponents to the hearing and concerning which the city council has asked the solicitor for an opinion. Whether this opinion will be ready for presentation to the council tonight is not known.

Inasmuch as the Saco-Lowell people already have issued vacating notices to all tenants of their property in Broadway, Worthen, Kilson and Dutton streets, effective May 1, and inasmuch as many of the families already have moved and the actual work of razing houses in Kilson street has begun, it would seem that the company intends some expansion regardless of whether Worthen street is closed as petitioned for.

"SAFE" PEACE IN IRELAND

Prospects of Early Settlement as Result of Disorganization of Republicans

Many Question Wisdom of Government Pressing for a Fight to the Finish

Urge Conference Between the Rival Faction With a Neutral Chairman

LONDON, April 17.—The improved prospects of early peace in Ireland as a result of the utter disorganization of the republican movement through the recent government successes are leading many people throughout the country to question the wisdom of pressing for a fight to the finish, says a Dublin despatch to the Times.

The Free State has some 12,000 or 15,000 prisoners in its jails, the correspondent writes, and the problem of their future is becoming acute. If the government today's upon a Carthaginian peace these men will come out of the prisons crowded for the moment, but sullen and resentful at what they consider a peace of vengeance.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS GO TO CAMBRIDGE

A number of Lowell veterans of the Spanish-American war, including Commander Walter R. Jones and Adjutant B. E. Chandler, left this afternoon to attend the opening session of the 24th annual encampment of United Spanish War Veterans of Massachusetts at Cambridge.

The convention will actually get under way tomorrow, with the veterans meeting in Elks hall and the ladies' auxiliary meeting in the American Legion hall. Both conventions will open promptly at 9 a. m. The Cambridge city government, headed by Mayor Edward W. Quinn, will tender a reception at 5 o'clock. At 2:30 p. m. on Thursday there will be a military parade, participated in by veterans of three wars, Boy Scouts and semi-military organizations of Cambridge.

Among the comrades who died during the war and for whom special memorial exercises will be held, was Michael J. Mahoney, member of Gen. Adolphus Ames camp, No. 12, of Lowell, who died January 31, 1923, and who was buried with full military honors in St. Patrick's cemetery.

Joyce, a noted Irish educator. He entered the Oblate Fathers' community and was sent to France to complete his education preparatory to becoming a missionary. He was ordained at Ottawa, Canada, where he became attached to the teaching staff of the great university of learning, Ottawa University. As professor in the university, Fr. Barrett continued amongst his pupils many young men who later in life became renowned in church and state. Professional and commercial life. Among these was the present superior Archbishop Donnelly, at present residing in Rome. As a professor he was painstaking patient and amiable and at all times enjoyed the friendship and love of his pupils. For more than 20 years he continued his professorship at Ottawa and was sent by his superiors to Lowell, Mass., in the year 1884, becoming attached to the Sacred Heart church. In 1894 he was sent to San

AMERICAN JAILED BY BOLSHEVISTS

Relief Worker Spent 18 Days in Solitary Confinement in Soviet Prison

Charge of Spying Based on Discovery Among His Papers of an Insurance Policy

Saw 92 Political Prisoners Shot in Reprisal for Assassination of Commissary

LONDON, April 17.—A Constantinople despatch to the Daily Mail says that Elgin E. Groseloc, an American relief worker, has arrived in that city from Tiflis, where he said he spent 18 days in solitary confinement in a soviet prison on a charge of spying.

The charge was based on the discovery among his papers of an insurance policy which the soviet police mistook for an incriminating document.

Groseloc said that while he was in jail 92 political prisoners were shot in reprisal for the assassination of a Bolshevik commissary.

TWO DIE WATCHING FIGHT

BUENOS AIRES, April 17.—Two spectators at a boxing match in Cordoba died of heart disease yesterday as they watched a fight which was not unusually exciting. The deaths occurred almost simultaneously at the end of the second round of the bout.

GIRL BALL PLAYER DEAD

CENT A PIECE FOR TIN CANS ALMOST CAUSED A RIOT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 17.—One cent apiece to boys for tin cans turned in during the clean-up week, in Nashville, almost caused a riot yesterday when after 60,000 cans had been delivered, the available funds for payment were exhausted.

Unable to convert their remaining cans into coin, hundreds of youngsters bombarded the temporary paymaster with them, forcing him to seek shelter.

Emergency offerings by public spirited citizens were made and the "paying off" will be resumed today.

MAY HAVE TO CALL STATE OFFICIAL

There was some talk last week about the possibility of the secretary of state being requested to delegate one of his deputies to Lowell in order to break a deadlock existing in the election of a chairman for board of election commissioners, as it was stated at that time that there was a tie vote for the office. Messrs. McOsker and Braden having cast their ballot in favor of Mr. McOsker, while Messrs. Allard and Magnus voted in favor of Mr. Allard.

Now there is more talk about the secretary of state and this time it is said this state official will probably be requested to send one of his deputies here to settle the matter of holding a meeting. When the board last met it adjourned to the call of the chair, and although two members of the board are in favor of holding a meeting to settle the election of a chairman, it is said, that no action whatever is being taken, although it was stated at city hall this morning that the chairman had promised to call a meeting some time this week. If two members of the board favor the holding of a meeting and the other two oppose it, then there is a deadlock, and the only remedy is to call in the secretary of the state to settle the matter as a majority vote of the board is necessary for the calling of a meeting.

COMMUNISTS IN U. S. DISSOLVED

Party Has Diverted Its Members to Workers' Party of America

Action Taken at Secret Convention Held in New York, Says Ruthenberg

NEW YORK, April 17. (By the Associated Press) The Communist Party of America has dissolved itself and diverted its members to the Workers' Party of America, which it recognizes as the only affiliation of the third international of Moscow in the United States. It was disclosed today by associates of U. S. Ruthenberg, secretary of the Central executive committee of the Workers' party.

TO SEEK RECEIVERSHIP FOR HOUSE OF DAVID

LANSHING, Mich., April 17. At the behest of state officials who are lending the light against the Israeli House of David colony at Benton Harbor, the Michigan house of representatives last night passed a bill designed to compel the state to seek a receivership for the colony. The bill prohibits acquisition of property by fraud and the encouragement of teaching of immorality by religious organizations.

STAGE HAND ECLIPSED

ETHEL BARRYMORE IN N. Y. THEATRE

NEW YORK, April 17.—A stage hand temporarily eclipsed Ethel Barrymore at the Longacre Theatre last night, where she is starring in "The Laughing Lady." Faint smoke came from back stage and floated out over the audience, causing decided uneasiness. Miss Barrymore became a very serious lady. Then a stage hand, dressed in his working clothes, rushed to the center of the stage, his hat in one hand and a smoking rag in the other.

"Just a little rag burning, ladies and gentlemen," he announced, and darted for the wings. The audience roared.

"Now, where am I?" said Miss Barrymore—and then she went ahead with her lines.

MEN INJURED WHEN TRUCK TIPPED OVER

Three men riding in a Mack truck owned by David Ziskind had narrow escapes from serious injury this morning when the big machine lurched to the side of the roadway near the corner of Rogers street and Clark road in an attempt to avoid running down a dog and crashed over on its side.

The three men, Hyman Travers, the operator, and Thomas Bell, of 102 Railroad street and Patrick Donohue, of 2 Frye street, were thrown heavily to the ground and Bell and Donohue were injured to such an extent that they were rushed to St. John's hospital.

Bell was discharged shortly after his arrival but Donohue was confined for the purpose of an X-ray examination to determine internal injuries.

GIRL DANCES FOR 66 HOURS

World's Continuous Dancing Championship Won by Cleveland Girl

Seattle Chief Says First to Start Marathon Dancing Will Be Jailed for Insanity

CLEVELAND, April 17.—The world's continuous dancing championship preliminary today in the hands of Miss Madeline Gottschick at 5.34 a. m. today, having established the new record at 66 hours and 54 minutes, beating by one minute the record set by Miss Madeline Williams of Houston, Tex.

Miss Gottschick quit at 3.46 a. m. setting the new world's record at 66 hours and 5 minutes, beating Miss Williams' record by 12 minutes. She said she was forced to quit because of exhaustion largely due to dancing on a 15th floor.

Miss Gottschick started dancing Saturday at 3 p. m.

VERDICT FOR THE STREET RAILWAY

A verdict for the defendant was brought in by the jury at the superior court today in the case of Mabel P. Toppin, plaintiff, of Lawrence, in an action of tort, against the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, the defendant. The plaintiff alleged that, as a result of being struck by one of the company's street cars, she was permanently disfigured and injured.

Miss Toppin's attorneys endeavored to show that as a result of the fact, the plaintiff was subject to epileptic fits. The street railway lawyers introduced testimony, showing that the plaintiff was subject to these fits before the accident, and that they were no more serious now than they were at the time of her alleged accident. The case was completed late yesterday afternoon.

Lowell Masons Present at Dedication Services of Masonic Temple in Lawrence, Yesterday

THE NEW MASONIC TEMPLE FROM THE COMMON

Lowell Masons had an active interest in the services held in Lawrence yesterday at the dedication of the new Masonic temple in that city and high officers of local lodges of the order, as well as Lowell men who now serve and have served in the grand body attended.

Among the prominent Lowell men who took part in the dedicatory exercises were Past Grand Master Arthur D. Prince, Frank W. Dobson, senior grand warden and local representative on the grand lodge staff, Arthur G. Pollard, Harry G. Pollard and Herbert E. Fletcher, past deputy grand masters and Col. Charles S. Proctor, past grand warden. Many other Lowell Masons attended. The exercises were under the direction of Most Worshipful Dudley H. Ferrell, grand master.

thrown open for public inspection last Saturday afternoon and hundreds took this opportunity to enjoy it. On Sunday evening a pre-dedication service was held at the Lawrence Street Congregational church.

While the architecture of the building is along simple lines, it is most majestic in appearance and truthfully expresses the traditions of the fraternity. The exterior is of classic design. The building is of light gray granite composite cast stone.

Past Grand Master Arthur D. Prince of this city, who laid the corner stone of the building, was a speaker at the dedication banquet served last night in the dining hall of the temple. In leading to the banquet room were scores of potted plants and baskets of flowers artistically arranged and the national colors were prominently displayed just inside the main entrance.

Other speakers at the banquet were: Most Worshipful Dudley H. Ferrell, Grand Master of Massachusetts; Most Excellent Curtis Chismen, grand high priest of Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Massachusetts; Most Distinguished Paul K. Webster, Grand Master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of Massachusetts; Right Eminent James C. Blake, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Massachusetts; and Rhonda Island; and Most Fulgent Lewis M. Abbott, Sovereign grand commander for the northern jurisdiction of the United States.

including the mayor, members of the school committee and city councilors who voted to approve it.

The blank petition form has been filled out by Mr. Williams and given to City Messenger Owen A. Monahan who will secure the necessary signatures before tomorrow noon, to allow the bill and petition to be again filed for presentation to the legislature. As soon as bill and petition are received in proper form, Rep. Corbett, a resident of the district in which it is planned to erect the school, will sign it and personally introduce it in the house. Undoubtedly, without debate, it will be referred to the house committee on rules on the question of admittance under the head of public legislation.

The committee on rules of which Rep. Victor P. Jewett of Lowell is chairman, probably will hold a hearing on the matter, at which persons interested and others in opposition, will be given an opportunity to tell why it should or should not be admitted.

If the committee on rules votes to admit the bill it will go to the committee on municipal finance on the real question, that of whether the city will be allowed to step outside the limit of indebtedness to the extent of $700,000. Another hearing will be held by this committee and at that time, proponents will be obliged to go into plans in detail, including size and location particularly.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about 50 cents. Ready and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could have ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation acts right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

For "Safe" Peace in Ireland

"More seeds of bitterness will be sown and the spirit of revenge will be kept alive by the women. Thus the children will grow up as in the past with a spirit of hatred for the existing institutions bred in their bones."

"There is a growing feeling that De Valera should, if possible, be given a chance to save his face."

As an indication of the prevalent feeling, the correspondent quotes the Irish Times as advocating a conference between the government representative and the republicans with a neutral chairman. It suggests Monsignor Luzzio for this post.

The newspaper admits that the idea may not be pleasing to the government but says a conference is the only alternative to a continuation of the fighting until the extremists have been utterly crushed.

It urges that the government could not be endangered by such a conference which might bring a "safe" peace, the only peace the nation can afford to accept.

LOOMFIXERS ENDORSE ACTION OF CONFERENCE BOARD IN REJECTING PROFFERED WAGE INCREASE

The action of the New England Loomfixers' union of the United Textile Workers of America to reject the 12 1/2 per cent wage increase recently granted to mill operatives all over New England, which is scheduled to become operative April 30, was endorsed by the Loomfixers' union of this city at a meeting held last evening. The meeting, which was largely attended, was presided over by President Joseph E. J. J. J.

John Hanley, business agent and secretary of the organization, reported that the New England Conference Board went on record as rejecting the wage increase and favoring the 20 1/2 per cent raise asked for by the Loomfixers' union of this city at a meeting held last evening. The meeting, which was largely attended, was presided over by President Joseph E. J. J.

In the course of the meeting it was voted to keep the strike on until June 1 in order to give former members of the organization an opportunity to be reinstated. The matter of dealing with those who have been expelled from the union because of strike breaking was left entirely to the executive board.

Will Hold Big Mass Meeting

The mass meeting, to which all are invited, will start promptly at 8 o'clock with Congressman John Jacob Rogers presiding. The speakers are Major General Robert Bullard, Major General Andre Brewster, Brigadier General Mark L. Hersey, Congressman Rogers, and "Uncle Dudley" Pace.

At the supper at the Washington club, prior to the parade and mass meeting, the city government will be the host to the visiting officials. As many officers of the Organized Reserves as can be accommodated will be present at this supper.

Major General Bullard is the commanding officer of the Second Corps Area, located at Governors' Island, New York, and is known all over the country as a speaker of many of the most able. Brigadier General Hersey is also a well known speaker and army official, having had charge of Camp Devens during the World War. Major General Brewster is the commanding officer of the First Corps Area, located at Boston, and is a well known in Lowell to need an introduction. Congressman Rogers and Mr. Pace are both local men. Mr. Pace's talk will be of exceptional interest to the men of the Organized Reserves. He served in the old 11th corps during the World War and his talk will be mainly along the lines of the service which this unit underwent during that war.

A get-together of the men of the Organized Reserves will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Many of these men have never seen their commanding officers, and many of the officers have never met their men. Tomorrow's meeting will give them an opportunity to meet one another and understand more fully the work that is ahead of them with the reserve corps. Lieutenant George W. Langdon of Haverhill is the commanding officer of the 25th Field Artillery of the 11th corps and it is under him that most of the Lowell men in the reserve corps. Captain Joseph A. Malloy is in command of the 1st battalion headquarters unit, and Major Percy J. Wilson of Lowell is in command of the 412th Engineers. Captain Joseph M. Kelly, also of Lowell, is the local representative of the 84th Division.

Company M, Machine Gun Company, 152nd Infantry, under Capt. George D. Crowell, will participate in the parade. The purpose of the Organized Reserves is to build up an army of officers and non-commissioned officers who could, in case of war, train drafted men, thus giving the regular army freedom to plunge directly into the war. During the World War one of the greatest deficiencies in our system was that regular army men, officers and non-commissioned officers, were compelled to break away from their old companies and go to the various training camps to give the new recruits and drafted men the training which is absolutely necessary. With a large reserve army, the necessity for a large standing army is greatly diminished, and the army would be able to leave all training to this branch of the service. New England, the Lowell section particularly, leads all the rest of the country in the reserve but the officers in command feel that more will sign up from Lowell after hearing the greatest army men and statesmen explain the reserve army law and the necessity of it.

The time 8 o'clock (tomorrow night) at the Auditorium and everyone who can get in the hall is invited to attend.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO MRS. BLANCHE FERRON

Blanche Ferron of this city was granted a divorce from Henry Ferron in the probate court before Judge John C. Leighton this morning. Back in 1909 Henry Ferron was declared to be insane and was committed to the asylum at Bridgewater. At a later period he was judged sane and was allowed to go free.

At the present time he is believed to be residing in Canada. He did not appear to contest the charges of Mrs. Ferron.

ATTACHMENT FILED

An attachment against the property of William A. Mitchell of Chelmsford, to the value of $1,000, in an action brought by the Lowell National Guard, was filed yesterday in the clerk of deeds office, at the county court house, in answer to Leo R. Blackin of Lowell. The hearing is set for the second Saturday in May.

FAREWELL TO PASTOR WEAKNESS AFTER ACUTE DISEASES

Rev. Karl P. and Mrs. Meister
Honored by Church Members and Friends

The Centralville Improvement society and the members of the Centralville M. E. church gathered last night in the vestry of the church to bid farewell to the pastor of the church and one of the founders of the Improvement society, Rev. Karl P. Meister, who is leaving Lowell to take up the position of national field secretary of the Board of Hospitality and Homes of the Methodist Episcopal church in Chicago. During the evening, Thomas P. Garvey, president of the Improvement society, gave a short resume of the work of the society and presented to the Rev. Mr. Meister, on behalf of the gathering, a beautiful silk umbrella. Mr. Meister replied fittingly and then reported on the work he had done to get a sub-postoffice for Centralville. Remarks were also made by Charles B. Garrison, Russell Fox, A. L. Hiser, John F. Burns, Mrs. Minnie Proctor, Rev. Charles E. Piper of the Fifth Street Baptist church, and others.

Early in the evening the members of the Philanthropic class of the Sunday school of the Central M. E. church gathered at Marie's lunch with Mrs. Karl P. Meister as their guest, and presented to her, as a mark of their esteem, a meek bag. Following the presentation a supper and social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Clara Anderson and Miss Alice Fox had charge of this reception.

NURSES' ALUMNAE DANCE TONIGHT

The second annual dance of the Nurses' Alumni of St. John's hospital will be held tonight at Associate hall. The committee in charge of this affair have been working for the past several months to make the dance a success and the many friends of the hospital and its nurses have aided materially in the sale of tickets. Last year's party, the first given by the association, was one of the biggest successes of the season and the committee hopes that their party tonight will be the biggest of the present season.

SURPRISES AND PLAIDS

When Convalescence Is Slow and Unsatisfactory Look to the Condition of the Blood

Severe colds, influenza, grip, pneumonia and pleurisy during the past winter have left thousands of people so debilitated that convalescence is slow and unsatisfactory. The blood is so thin that it cannot do the work of rebuilding wasted tissues and the first step in regaining health and strength is to build up the blood.

The case of Mrs. Josephine Sousa, of No. Beech avenue, Somerville, Mass., was typical. She had a winter cold, influenza, pneumonia and pleurisy. After the doctor stopped coming she felt very weak, was pale, sleepless and had pains around the heart. She says:

"I thought I should die and at times I didn't care what became of me. I had been in bed a long time and after getting up it seemed as if I should never regain my strength. I had children to care for and they took what little strength I did have. One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a newspaper and gave them a trial. The pills helped me right away. I took them regularly and gradually my strength returned. I eat heartily now and my blood is in good condition as I can tell by the improvement in my color. The pains around my heart are entirely gone and I believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and nothing else did it. I am able to do my work without discomfort and am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood builder and nerve tonic. The rich, red color that they make not only carries vigor to the cheeks and lips and gives the exhausted nerves and muscles the pains of neuralgia and rheumatism. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no opiates nor harmful drugs; they restore health and strength but do not give temporary stimulation.

A valuable booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

SECOND ACT OF "THE JADE GONG"

Last night the rehearsals for the second act of "The Jade Gong," the musical revue to be given by the Girls City club, were completed. This revue will be given in the Memorial Auditorium on Thursday evening, April 19, and will be followed by general dancing.

One of the features of the second act, which is laid in Greenwich Village, is Miss Gertrude Corkery as the "Peacock Girl," who, in a gown with a train eight yards long on which is painted a peacock, leads the "Greenwich Village Parade." Following her are Mae Walsh as pirate Ben, Miss Sullivan as the Castilian girl, Cathryn O'Neil as the Spanish girl, Helen Beebe as the Little Peacock and Dora Fisher as the Scarlet Domino. Following this stately parade is Little Ballerina, Agatha Jester, who performs a most graceful toe dance.

COMMISSIONER BATES COMMENDS SHIELDS

William H. Shields, of 161 Warwick street, an officer working under the direction of the state department of correction, has been commended by Commissioner Sanford L. Bates for his work in connection with the recent arrest of Victor E. Mason of this city, who escaped from the Dedham jail last December. Shields was assigned to the case when Mason and a fellow prisoner broke away and a man-hunt of four months' duration followed.

The arrest actually was made in Keene, N. H., by officers of that city, working under the direction of Shields. After the capture the prisoner was taken to the state line near Pittsburg where Shields slipped a pair of steel handcuffs over his wrists and took him to Boston and thence to Dedham.

TEACHERS' MEETING
The next regular meeting of the Teachers' organization will take place at the Normal school at 6:30 o'clock on Wednesday, April 18. The program for this meeting will consist of several short addresses, a musical entertainment and dancing. The guests of the hour will be the members of the legislature and the members of the school board. Tickets will be on sale for members until Wednesday, April 18.

"Suffered Rheumatic, Torture for Years"

Now Restored to Perfect Health
Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has To Say About ALLEN-RHU, The Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism.

"For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs ached and would swell to almost double their normal size and suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly get out of bed. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine, seeing how despondent I was, gave me a box of Allen-Rhu. I was over in less than a week. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were promptly achieved. After beginning the treatment I found that the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles, which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the disease and the almost unbearable pain which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and have not even a symptom of rheumatism. I am now in the best of health and am able to do my work without any pain. Signed, J. C. Jones, Winchester, Ky."

Every druggist in the country is authorized to sell Allen-Rhu. The only authentic sufferer that has been completely cured of rheumatism is J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky. The way to stop the agony of swollen joints and the torture of rheumatism is to get Allen-Rhu. It is the only remedy that will stop the agony of rheumatism without causing any harm to your system. Allen-Rhu is a most marvelous remedy. It has been completely cured in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony were intense and pitiable. And when the patient was helpless and unable to get out of bed, Allen-Rhu cured him.

LAST ACT IN TRAGEDY

Body of Slain Priest Sent to Hubbardston, Mich., for Burial

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 17.—The last chapter in the tragedy of St. Augustine's Catholic church here was being written today.

The body of Rev. Henry O'Neill, pastor, was en route to Hubbardston, Mich., for burial. On another train, in the custody of a police captain, Rev. Charles Dillon, confessed slayer of Fr. O'Neill, was on his way to the state house of correction at Marquette, to which he was sentenced yesterday for life.

TO ESTABLISH A
CROATIAN REPUBLIC

BELOGRADE, April 17.—M. Raditch, leader of the "Croatian agrarians," whose break with the government led to the resignation of the Peitchich cabinet, affirmed in a speech that his party was "the friend of Germany and Russia no matter what their governments are."

He advocated the establishment of a "Croatian republic within Yugoslavia," retaining the king as the symbolic chief of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

ORGANIZED LABOR

LIQUOR CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

The case of George Mansour, charged with illegal keeping, was called in the district court today and was continued to April 28, the defendant being held in Boston in connection with a similar charge. Mansour was arrested here on March 10 for illegal keeping and was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $100 and be committed to the house of correction for a term of three months. He appealed and it is the appeal that was heard in the superior court today. Since the finding in the lower court and awaiting the superior court session Mansour again became engaged in the unlawful traffic and last night he eluded his experiences by falling into the hands of the liquor squad once more.

A plea of not guilty was entered by James O'Loughlin in the district court this morning when he was charged with unlawfully keeping intoxicating liquor. The case was continued to April 30, bonds of $500 being furnished.

In another trial conducted last evening, a near-beer saloon at 318 Moody street, Joseph Robert, proprietor, was found to contain illegal moonshine.

Robert was arrested for keeping and selling and in court this morning, he pleaded guilty to keeping but not guilty to selling. Both complaints were continued until April 30.

Other Offenders

Thomas Scully of Decent, charged with threatening and assault and battery on Frances Scully, was continued to May 1. Continuances were also granted Dona Dion for being drunk and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, and John Lauser for non-support, the former to April 30, and the latter to next Saturday.

ALLEGED MISTREATMENT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 17.—Alleging that he had been fogged with a heavy belt while the conductor turned the camp of Senator T. J. Knabb until his condition had become so severe that he was removed by a state prison inspector, Paul White, 17-year-old youth of Washington, D. C., has placed in the hands of state authorities an affidavit setting forth additional details of alleged mistreatment.

DROPS DEAD ON STREET

LEONSTER, April 17.—Martin G. Hillery of Hartford, Conn., an extensive real estate owner here, and elsewhere in New England, was found dead on the street here today of heart trouble.

COMMUNICATION

Lowell, Mass., April 16, 1923.

ONE OF SHORTEST
WILLS ON RECORD

BALTIMORE, April 17.—One of the shortest wills ever recorded here, that of Thomas C. De Rosset, contained four words: "Everything to my wife."

At the bottom of the document, he wrote: "A wonderful little girl is my wife."

Mr. De Rosset dropped dead recently while playing golf.

PILOTS OUT TO BREAK
ENDURANCE RECORD

DAYTON, Ohio, April 17.—(By the Associated Press) Winging their way through the night, Lieut. John A. Macleedy and Oakley Kelly, McCook Field pilots, aboard the monoplane, T-2, were still in the air today in their effort to set an endurance record of 40 hours. They had set a new speed record for 1500 kilometre (931.75 miles). The new speed record for this distance is 12 hours and 39 minutes, an average of 74 miles an hour. The former record of 62 miles an hour was held by a French aviator.

FLAYS RUM-RUNNING
BY BRITISH SHIPS

TORONTO, April 17.—Chancellor Charles W. Flint of Syracuse university, speaking before the Alumni Association of Victoria college last night, criticized rum-running into the United States by British ships.

He said such vessels placed the British flag, which had down in such proved manner for a thousand years, in a small place by "protecting the wholesalers trading with bootlegging vermin outside the three mile limit."

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other
Distressing Ailments by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter-box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives."—Mrs. ENGLEMAN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of nearly fifty years of service and thousands of women praise its merit, as does Mrs. Englemann. You should give it a fair trial now.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

HIGGLEDY PIGGLEDY

"HOW D'YE DO?" SAID NANCY. "WHAT'S YOUR NAME?"

The next person the Twins met in Sugar-Plum Land was a black hen with a red flannel comb, glass bead eyes and paste bound feet. Her feathers were real, however, and as black as coal.

"How d'ye do?" said Nancy. "What's your name?"

"Higgledy Piggledy what else?" answered the black hen. "I lay eggs for gentlemen just as the rhyme says. Also I lay sometimes pine and sometimes ten, and sometimes a hundred which no hen would ever think of doing."

"Then how does it happen that you can?" asked Nick.

"Easy as pie," replied Higgledy Piggledy. "I'm as full of candy eggs as a pin cushion is of needles. My head unscrews and the rest of me is hollow like the Green Sugar Pig. I think that the Easter Bunny is going to put me into some child's Easter basket. But I'll tell you a secret. I'm mortified to death."

"Why?" asked Nancy.

"The Chocolate Rabbit told the Green-Sugar Pig and the Pig told the Kneek Kneek Elephant, and the Elephant told the Pink Gelatin Fish, and the Fish told the Maple-Sugar Honeysuckle, and he told me that the Easter Bunny was going to put Fuzzy Wuzzy, the Yellow Duckling, into the same basket with me."

"Won't you like that?" asked Nick. "It's like a good company."

"Like it? I feel like fainting. Good company, indeed! Why everybody will think he's my son, and not wishing separate us, they will keep us together the rest of our lives. I just know I shall be set on the nursery mantel shelf with me!"

with him right beside me and there will stay till kingdom come."

"If you feel so cut up about it, perhaps we can fix it," said kind Nancy. "I shall ask the Gingerbread Man to speak to the Easter Bunny. Perhaps he'll change Fuzzy Wuzzy for a nice downy chick."

"Thank you," exclaimed Higgledy Piggledy. "I shall be very grateful."

MRS. NIELSON'S CASSEROLE
By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Of Columbia University

Trim fat from one-half pound of raw pork and fry out the fat. In one tablespoon of the fried-out fat fry one small onion, thinly sliced and chopped, and the lean raw back, chopped. Mix this with one pound of chopped beef steak, add one-half teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of paprika, and a pint of scalded milk a little at a time, beating it until light.

Shape into balls about the size of an egg, and roll each ball in flour mixed with a little salt. Place a layer of half of these balls in the bottom of the casserole and on top a layer of six small sausages. Then another layer of the balls and another of six sausages.

Cover the dish and bake one hour in a hot oven.

STARTING IT

Here's Anita Hodges, Birmingham, Ala., starting the game at Atlanta, Ga., in the Georgia Tech team opens the baseball season.

HELD FIRST MEETING IN NEW QUARTERS

Members of Wamecet lodge, 25, Knights of Pythias, held their first meeting in their new quarters, Odd Fellows' building, Bridge street, last evening. There was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted. Samuel H. Wickham and John S. Mair were installed as chancellor and commander and outer guard, respectively. The installation ceremony being conducted by Deputy Grand Chancellor Harland P. Knight and suite of West Somerville, assisted by Past Chancellor Daniel Starkey of Samuel H. Lines lodge. At the close of the business session supper was served in the upper hall and entertainment numbers were given. It was announced that the lodge will hold meetings every Monday night until further notice.

SEEKS $25,000 TO BEGIN C. U. STADIUM

Twenty-five thousand dollars is to be raised by May 1 to drain and grade the athletic field at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. This is the first step toward the erection of a stadium, to cost not less than $400,000.

The athletic committee of the alumni has undertaken the task of raising the money and in directing the campaign to members in all parts of the country. The completed stadium will be 440 feet long and 280 feet wide, and will be built of reinforced concrete. A sufficient portion of the concrete stands will also be constructed at once to provide seating capacity for 8,000.

The committee in charge of the campaign includes Clarence B. Martin of Martinsburg, W. Va., chairman ex-officio; Arthur B. Maguire, Detroit, chairman; Eugene Edwards and Edward J. Mahon, Washington; John J. Greer and John A. Glawatt, Philadelphia; Louis H. Cook, professor of mechanics at the university, has been named treasurer, and J. Henry Cain, secretary of the administration, has been named secretary of the committee.

"The Catholic university is going to have the best football team in the country," declared Chairman Maguire, "and it is going to have one of the best stadiums in the country. We have everything necessary to put a team in the field that will keep on top, and we intend to support that material by actual work. Our first step, of course, will be to put the field into shape. This can be done by grading and draining. We will raise the money for this purpose. Then we will get after the athletes we have in the university. They will be rounded up and also put in shape. This will not be a hard task, as we have one of the best equipped gymnasiums in the country for the workouts."

When we have raised the money for draining and grading, we are going out strong for the stadium. Every member of the alumni will be solicited. We are going at it systematically, too, and meetings are to be held in the larger cities.

"New York recently rounded up all the old boys in that city and a fundraising meeting was held. They are working for the old alma mater. This will extend all over the country, and it will not be a long time before actual work on the stadium is commenced."

FRYING IN DEEP FAT

When frying doughnuts or French fried potatoes or any food that is fried in deep fat do not put in too many pieces at any one time or you will lower the temperature too much and the fat will be absorbed.

COLONIAL PARTY BY NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE

All plans are completed for the second annual Colonial party of the Notre Dame Alumnae association in Liberty hall, Auditorium, Wednesday evening, April 18.

Mrs. Teresa Mahoney Donovan, soprano soloist of Andover, and Dr. Geo. A. Dwyer, tenor soloist of one of the leading Boston choirs, will give a group of songs.

Senator David I. Walsh has accepted an invitation extended to him by the Alumnae association to be present for a brief time. The following prominent men are on the reception committee to the senator:

Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Hon. Thos. J. Bright, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, Mayor John J. Donovan, Henry L. Bourke, Dr. Joseph P. Kearney, Rev. Dr. John J. McCarthy, Rev. Dr. J. A. Suplee, Rev. Thomas McDonough, Rev. James P. Lynch, John J. Sullivan, John Hart, James F. Corbett, Joseph P. Donohue, John V. Donoghue, Humphrey O'Sullivan, Dr. Patrick Noonan, Dr. Fred Murphy, Frank P. McElroy, J. Joseph Hennessy, George M. Harrigan.

Charles J. Leary is floor director with twenty-five aids.

POTATO PIE SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT

A potato pie supper and entertainment was conducted by the British-American band recently at Odd Fellows' hall, Bridge street. The affair was largely attended and proved very enjoyable for all concerned. The entertainment part of the program included numbers by the band and John Pooler, John Turnbull, Miss Mary Powell, James Tison, Miss Annie Hopwood, Norrann Neild. The committee in charge consisted of James Royd, chairman; Robert Hollinsworth, vice chairman; John Blackman, secretary; William Pomfret, Fred Partington and Bertram Neild.

A golf ball leaves the club head at about 135 miles an hour, which is about as fast as a golfer leaves the office.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the too nail that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Trustees to Discuss Memorial Tablets With Architects—Organ Installation

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of trustees of the Memorial Auditorium last night, it was definitely decided to hold a conference next Friday evening with Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, building architects, and members of the Auditorium building commission relative to the erection of suitable memorial tablets in the building to the memory of Lowell men and women who were killed or who died in the service of their country. Also, it is the desire of the trustees to get from the building commission their ideas in the matter of removing from trophy hall the bronze plaque that bears their names.

A letter was received from Mr. Blackall, saying that next Friday night will be a convenient time for him to come to Lowell and the building commission, by Secretary Arthur L. Eno.

also notified the trustees of its willingness to attend the conference. Again it was brought out at the meeting that the trustees are very anxious to inaugurate plans for the erection of memorial tablets, although they desire to obtain the views of the architects and building commissioners before going ahead.

Because of illness Trustees Thomas Boulger could not attend last night's meeting, which was conducted by Chairman Charles H. Hobson, Fred A. Estes and Mayor John J. Donovan.

The announcement that parts of the organ have arrived and that the actual work of installation is in progress was received with much satisfaction, even though it is felt it is making a belated appearance. The installation work is in charge of Charles P. Witham, a former Lowell man, and it is estimated the job will require two months.

MISS JOAN LOWELL, 19, CAN SIDERED MOST FASCINATING CATCH IN MOVIE NET OF RECENT DATE.

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

HOLLYWOOD, April 17.—She "talked with God" from the masthead of ships and "spat tobacco juice" with sailors on land. Unmoved by divinity and unswayed by contact with rough men, shipwreck, tempest and scurvy, the shadowy perils and romance of the South Seas have beaten against this slim young nymph in a succession of adventures which single her out even among remarkable folk.

She has started her life by the north star, the Bible and the honeyed counsel of her skipper, daddy who reared her from infancy to the age of 15 aboard his sailing vessel.

Her name is Joan Lowell. And she is the most fascinating catch of the far-flung movie net in many moons. Whether or not she will be able to script writers remains to be seen. She has already done an interesting part as an Indian girl in Reginald Barker's screening of "The Law Bringers" for the Mayor organization—a good start. But what she could contribute to a palid screen? What perplexities for the censors?

Tales of life as young as Eve as she observed it on the coral atolls of the far Pacific, where black virgins twist lotus blossoms over their ears when the sea sings; where a dusty version of St. Anthony's temptation is a feature of every bridal, where there is no divorce; and where philandering is banished to the outer reefs to scrape and scum for the righteous; where she was so devoted to be queen every time her father's ship landed for trading.

Detailed embellishment of all this and much more, the astonishing Miss Lowell, now 19, tells with the naive directness that chimes oblique conventions. A girl strangely cultured for all her untroubled, stoned-in-Biblical and classical lore, she has in her, strong, fearless, clear-eyed, meeting with women for the first time three years ago.

"I'm not a girl," she said, "compelled to take me to sea with him when I was a three-month-old babe. Everyone said I'd die. He fed me dried milk, kept me clean and trusted to God. Look at me now!"

"I grew up with sailors. I cussed with the best of 'em. I could steer ship with my toes. Shift and overalls were my only clothes. I understand rough sport. I practiced with puny little spears, so that I could spit tobacco as far and straight as my fist. I have knocked men down with my fist. They regarded me as their equal."

"When scurvy struck us, I drank the blood of porpoise with the others. I did not think of myself as a woman—not until shortly before I left the ship for good when a mate reverential took a look of my hair as I lay dozing in a lifeboat. 'That was the dawn of self-consciousness.'"

"My father had always repressed any sentimental impulses, for fear I'd pine for my mother and women of my kind. My ideas of love and marriage were gleaned from what I observed on the island of Atafu, in the Union group, and from overbearing sailors' talk. 'Primitive life on that island, inhabited by about 300 blacks, seemed to me ideal. Civilization shocked me. When I came ashore, no time for romance. Double meanings everywhere. Horrid words from pretty mouths. I wanted to run and dive into the clean sea.'"

It will be interesting to see how the movies utilize the colorful personality and experiences of this mermaid.

Moore, believes that she killed Lord Ashton, who attempted to force her into marriage. Her brother Desmond, who is in love with her, is charged with the story of the killing and using it as a club, endeavors to force Miss Moore to marry him, using as his tool, Myles Regan, played by Malcolm MacLeod.

After Regan serves his purpose of frightening Miss Moore, in a fake story concerning her part in the murder, the Squire is charged with the story of the killing and using it as a club, endeavors to force Miss Moore to marry him, using as his tool, Myles Regan, played by Malcolm MacLeod.

Desmond is caught, and on the day that he is to be hanged, Regan, who is doing, confesses to the crime of killing Lord Ashton. Desmond is saved, and the Squire is charged with the story of the killing and using it as a club, endeavors to force Miss Moore to marry him, using as his tool, Myles Regan, played by Malcolm MacLeod.

Larry O'Connell pleased with several of his songs, that won instant favor with the audience. The dramatic parts of the play were smoothed over with clean, wholesome comedy, that kept the audience in a pleasant frame of mind during the entire performance.

THE STRAND THEATRE
The picture program at the Strand theatre for the first part of this week is one that will suit most any temperament, one feature picture, "Alias Julius Caesar," is straight, cut-and-dried comedy, and the other, "The Dangerous Age," combines a human interest story and several very exciting features.

"Alias Julius Caesar" featuring Charles Ray, is comedy drama such as Ray has made his reputation upon. The story opens in a country club where the hero is entertaining a lady friend. A jealous minor and his friends very desirous of getting the girl away from her suitor, stage a party in the club dance with him, succeed in "framing" Charlie in the shower room of the club, by taking away his clothes. But he is rescued by a girl who steals a robe from one of the shower boys and makes his way out a window. Climbing into his car he is accosted by his gardener who asks him who he is. His answer, "Julius Caesar," gets him into several scrapes as the gardener reports to the police that a man has just been at the club. An efficient man in no time and his detention in prison and escape with a pickpocket furnishes considerable comedy. He finally gets to the dance and is snubbed by his girl. The fellow appears, dressed in the height of fashion, and presses him into service. He is his confederate. Troubles come thick and fast. A character who revenges himself upon the fellow who framed him and who back has and in the pickpocket finds himself again in the hands of a picture. A character named over a picture. A character named over a picture. A character named over a picture.

"Sweet Innisfallen" a bit of Irish comedy drama of the romantic type, accompanied with the old familiar Irish tunes for the musical so-called, pleased and interested the audience at the Opera House last night. The scene is laid in the old country. The story is told in the old country. The story is told in the old country. The story is told in the old country.

I INVITE EVERY MAN AND WOMAN IN LOWELL AND VICINITY

Every Person in This Section Who is Weak, Rundown, Sick and Nervous, to Try This Great Medicine at My Expense. Free Bottle Will Be Given to All Who Come Early.

All Have the Same Chance to Get Well and Strong.

This is an invitation you can't afford to pass up. I am now feeling fine, have thrown away my cane. These are only two out of hundreds, yes, thousands.

Test This Medicine Free
Mr. Sufferer, have you ever heard of the wonderful medicine that takes, that really tells you what it can do, that's Dreco. Five minutes after you take it the medicine begins to unfold its virtues, and it will, by actual demonstration, unfold to you more in ten minutes than I could probably make you believe if I wrote you ten books as large as the dictionary.

"Words cannot tell how glad we are for Dreco," declares Mrs. Tressa Conley. "The first bottle fixed me up." Says Walter F. Dixon. "I am a changed man now," states Rev. Joseph L. Butler.

You may know some of these people. Or know somebody who knows them. Tell them your full address if you want them. So that you can find out if you have Dreco, and the wonders it has wrought.

Probably you are now thinking whether all this can be true. Stop! Come at once to Green's Drug Store, 3 Merrimack street, and ask for the Dreco man. He will give you absolutely free a good sized bottle of my Dreco. This offer is open to every man and woman in Lowell and vicinity. There are no ifs, ands or buts attached to it, except that you come early before the generous supply of free bottles has been used. You don't have to buy anything if you don't want to, all I ask is that you step in and test this wonderful medicine and see for yourself what it can do for you. So please come as early as possible.

story matter of the most engrossing kind but Mr. Johnson goes far beyond the mere individuals with whom he tells his stirring tale. He makes of his productions a vast canvas upon which he paints his narrative in bold and vivid strokes, pounding home to all holders his message of love and human kindness of which we have all too little in the work-a-day world of the present.

"The Third Alarm" abounds in thrills and tension. As one sits and observes its swift flight across the screen one is kept alternately giggling and quaking. The fire scene is positively staggering in its magnitude. The dash of the engines, through the crowded streets brings one back to the days of youth when boys and girls in the wake of the engines on the way to a blaze. The rescue of a girl who is trapped in the upper window is a scene never to be forgotten in this great production.

Test This Medicine Free

Mr. Sufferer, have you ever heard of the wonderful medicine that takes, that really tells you what it can do, that's Dreco. Five minutes after you take it the medicine begins to unfold its virtues, and it will, by actual demonstration, unfold to you more in ten minutes than I could probably make you believe if I wrote you ten books as large as the dictionary.

"Words cannot tell how glad we are for Dreco," declares Mrs. Tressa Conley. "The first bottle fixed me up." Says Walter F. Dixon. "I am a changed man now," states Rev. Joseph L. Butler.

You may know some of these people. Or know somebody who knows them. Tell them your full address if you want them. So that you can find out if you have Dreco, and the wonders it has wrought.

Probably you are now thinking whether all this can be true. Stop! Come at once to Green's Drug Store, 3 Merrimack street, and ask for the Dreco man. He will give you absolutely free a good sized bottle of my Dreco. This offer is open to every man and woman in Lowell and vicinity. There are no ifs, ands or buts attached to it, except that you come early before the generous supply of free bottles has been used. You don't have to buy anything if you don't want to, all I ask is that you step in and test this wonderful medicine and see for yourself what it can do for you. So please come as early as possible.

story matter of the most engrossing kind but Mr. Johnson goes far beyond the mere individuals with whom he tells his stirring tale. He makes of his productions a vast canvas upon which he paints his narrative in bold and vivid strokes, pounding home to all holders his message of love and human kindness of which we have all too little in the work-a-day world of the present.

"The Third Alarm" abounds in thrills and tension. As one sits and observes its swift flight across the screen one is kept alternately giggling and quaking. The fire scene is positively staggering in its magnitude. The dash of the engines, through the crowded streets brings one back to the days of youth when boys and girls in the wake of the engines on the way to a blaze. The rescue of a girl who is trapped in the upper window is a scene never to be forgotten in this great production.

Dr. Told Nurse To Take Dreco

Crippled by Rheumatism So She Had to Hold on to Banisters—Feet Swollen, Limbs, Ankles, Elbows Full of Pain

"I am writing to say a few words in praise of your wonderful medicine Dreco. I have often been asked to endorse this or that medicine but always refused, but Dreco is different," said Mrs. R. S. Shunkin, 1412 Law Ave., Evansville, Indiana.

"I have suffered greatly from rheumatism and been treated by excel-ent physicians. Nothing I tried, a change of climate, rest, etc., was of any use. It was temporary. While nursing I had my limbs and feet so swollen that I could not get into bed with a nurse to attend me. My feet were so swollen and painful I could hardly keep my shoes on my ankles and limbs were so sore and stiff I had a limp in my walk. I often had dark circles under my eyes and that tired look in them."

"Dreco was a source of great anxiety and I could not seem to get relief from it. I was often named and had a reputation at the sight of food."

"Today my feelings are entirely changed. I have taken two bottles of Dreco and I am so much better. The fiery ache and pain is gone, the swelling is completely relieved. I am no longer a cripple. Instead of being a sore, crippled creature, limping around which I would have been called today, I am a healthy, active woman. I give all the credit for my grand relief to Dreco, and unhesitatingly recommend it to everyone who suffers as I did." Free samples given.

Go today to Green's Drug Store, 3 Merrimack street, ask for Mr. Prebble, the well known Dreco Expert, and he will courteously explain the merits of this great remedy. There is no charge and he will tell you if he believes Dreco will benefit you.

MAY REVIVE OLD CHARGE

State Seeks Ruling Under Which it Can Try Governor Again

BY ROY GIBBONS

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
WAKEFELD, Ill., April 17.—Governor Len Small, acquitted here last summer on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of interest on public funds, may be compelled to face trial again under the same charges despite the constitutional provision which forbids placing anyone in jeopardy more than once for the same offense.

A "not guilty" verdict for Small after months of trial which cost taxpayers thousands of dollars.

Smith bases his statement, he says, on the probable outcome of a case now before the supreme court which will decide once and for all whether any defendant may be twice tried for the same crime provided the existence of fraud at his first hearing can be proved.

Seventeen Charges

So far the investigation has resulted in indictment of three men. Each is specifically accused in voluminous true bills on 17 counts including—
Conspiracy to obstruct justice.
Conspiracy to bribe a juror.
Conspiracy to do an unlawful act.
Conspiracy to have a juror answer questions.

Those indicted are:
John Birney Field, a juror in the Small trial and Antioch (Ill.) village here and baseball player, who was appointed deputy state game warden following the governor's acquittal.

Eddie Courtney, alleged by Chicago police to have a court record.

Eddie Kaufman, Chicagoan, recently arrested while allegedly heading a convoy of beer runners and now under federal indictment also.

Another man, William J. Riley, Antioch (Ill.) saloonkeeper, is being held as a state witness, accused of having received $1000 from Chicago "fixers," of which he paid $350 to Field and held out on the balance.

The indictments charge that Courtney and Kaufman did the "fixing," and that Field accepted the bribe.

Kaufman is the only defendant who has been taken into custody up to date. His $5000 bail was signed by Russell E. Edwards, a brother of Judge Claire C. Edwards, who presided over Governor Small's trial.

One except of the lengthy indictments charges:

"That one John B. Field was, by corrupt agreement and corrupt promise to pay a bribe in money and promise of remunerative employment, made to him and agreed upon by him, corruptly and unlawfully to influence the jury in the Small trial and Antioch (Ill.) village here and baseball player, who was ap-and did qualify to serve as a fair and impartial juror in this cause and proceeding.

"That Edward Kaufman, known as E. Morrison and Edward Courtney, known as E. Moran, did conspire to obstruct and impede the course of justice and did unlawfully and feloniously conspire with divers persons whose names are unknown to this grand jury, did knowingly conceal from the court and the counsel in said trial the corruption and bias of the said John B. Field, and did knowingly bring about a verdict of not guilty of the said Len Small without regard to the evidence, and did bribe a juror in the proceedings to be paid thereafter $250."

Small Calls It Plot

Gov. Small brands the probe as a further wicked attempt to besmirch his reputation for political reasons.

He charges Atty. Gen. Brundage, with whom he has long been at loggerheads, as being one of the many forces behind the investigation.

State's Attorney Smith says that the probe has "only begun," and that by the time all the evidence is in "many sensational bombshells will be exploded."

FEAR OF FRENCH BLOCKS
PEACE IN EUROPE

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

Special Cable to N.E.A. Service and The Lowell Sun

DUSSELDORF, April 17.—The one big stumbling block in the way of peace in the Ruhr—and in Europe—is France's fear of a reconstructed Germany, again powerful and capable of annihilating France if left to face her alone.

President Wilson saw this when he agreed with Britain to stand by France in the event of unprovoked aggression on the part of Germany.

Nothing short of some kind of surantee against such a fate will ever budge France from astride the Rhine.

If Great Britain will not give it to her, nor America, nor the two together, then France will follow out a policy of her own—a "safety first" policy—from which nothing short of superior force can turn her.

That is my outstanding impression after visits to Paris, London, Berlin and the cluster of German Pittsburghs which merge, one city into another, here in the Ruhr.

Washington Wires

I have means of knowing the government at Washington as well as that at London constantly is putting out feelers both in Paris and Berlin.

Berlin, I know, is anxious to reach a settlement. And so is Paris. The which is not over the actual question of reparations, for Premier Poincaré is still willing to accept $50,000,000,000 gold marks in addition to what Germany has already paid on account.

The problem which the United States and Britain have to solve, if they are to act as arbitrators in the Ruhr dispute, is how France may be secured against another German invasion.

Whatever objections Premier Poincaré may have to Secretary Hughes' plan to have a commission of experts ascertain how much Germany can pay are not because he fears they would be upon a too small sum but because the plan does not take into consideration France's national security.

A combination of the Hughes plan to determine the question of reparations and Lord Robert Cecil's suggestion that the League of Nations work out a scheme which would satisfy France's anxiety for her own safety is not an impossibility.

But one thing is certain. France, left by her two strongest allies—America and Britain—to face Germany alone, has leaped astride the Rhine.

She is in the Ruhr, Germany's one big industrial centre, without which Germany would find it very difficult to wage a successful war.

And there France will stay until either she can get the life insurance she is after or until shehammer out a guarantee for her life and in her own way, be anyone else who may.

EVEN TODAY IN SOME COUNTRIES WOMEN—YOKED WITH OXEN—SHARE THE CRUEL DRUDGERY OF PLOWING THE FIELDS

Drudgery Tears Down—Destroys—Kills

THE blindfolded Samson, shorn of his strength, stumbling around and around, turning the mill-wheels—that's drudgery.

The same cruelly hard task—day in and day out—no change—no hope for change—monotonous, back-aching work—that's Drudgery.

And the history of womankind has been the story of a bitter struggle against the soul-crushing bonds of DRUDGERY.

But bit by bit womankind has gained ground—SHE'S COMING INTO HER OWN AT LAST.

Countless women from foreign countries have for the first time learned in this country the utter uselessness of the countless self-enforced drudgeries they have suffered under in the past.

For the American woman doesn't follow hidebound custom merely because it is custom.

She wants to know WHY.

And the woman who asks herself that question IS GOING TO GET SOMEWHERE.

She does not keep on breaking her back and eating out her heart over some daily drudgery just because her great-grandmother happened to do things that way.

She asks why so long and so hard that finally THE WORLD SITS UP AND TAKES NOTICE. And then the world sits down and helps her find the answer.

A woman at one time had to do the work of a hired man before she could earn the reputation of being a "good wife."

Not today, however.

Let's take, for an example, the Family Wash. Let's briefly retrace the road taken by the Family Wash through the last few thousand years.

Four thousand years ago the over-worked Egyptian housewife squatted on the banks of the Nile and rubbed and beat clothes on rocks until she was HARDLY ABLE TO TOTTER HOME.

By the time the Middle Ages had rolled around, Frenchwomen had thought of using rough boards on which to scrub the Family Wash. In Revolutionary America women did the same.

Our great-grandmothers still rubbed and scrubbed on rough wash-boards and used crude, harsh, home-made soaps, lye soaps that ate holes into clothes like wildfire.

* * *

Then came bar soap—good soap—excellent soap—but it, too, had to be rubbed in to get results, and backs still ached over the wash-boards. Monday was STILL BLUE MONDAY.

But women were beginning to question

more and more this terrible weekly drudgery. WHY SHOULD THEY BE SUBMITTED WEEK AFTER WEEK TO THIS TORTURE?

And the more they complained and questioned the harder science worked for an answer.

The first big step in this direction was a soap—yet more than a soap—flakes, pure crystalline flakes—flakes that cleansed with never an effort and without harm the finest of silks and all other delicate and sheer fabrics.

This was Lux—now in the home of almost every woman in this land.

Only one more step to the Family Wash—and it has been taken.

* * *

Today, there is a new soap—RINSO—THAT IS FREEING MILLIONS—yes literally millions—of women the world over from the deadly, nerve-racking drudgery of scrubbing and rubbing their lives away on the big Family Wash.

In short—what Lux does for fine fabrics, Rinso does for the family wash. Wherever you used to use bar soap use this new soap—RINSO.

You don't have to change your method of washing. If you use stationary tubs, if you have a washing machine or if you boil—it's all the same—only let the clothes soak for an hour or more in the rich Rinso suds—and you will be saved the ordeal of that back-breaking rubbing.

Foundations for the Future

THE sickly baby is unfairly handicapped all through childhood. On the other hand a healthy baby is likely to be a vigorous older child. If you start your baby with the right food, you are building a sound foundation for future health. Nurse him if you can, but if you cannot, the Eagle Brand way is the safe way—tried and proved by many doctors and mothers. It is pure milk and sugar—digestible, convenient, successfully used for sixty-five years.

Exchange of Telegrams Between Pres. Harding and Pres. Millerand

PARIS, April 16.—(By the Associated Press) An exchange of telegrams between President Harding and President Millerand was a feature today of one of the most moving ceremonies here since the great war when at the Invalides the new "Halls in honor of the allied armies" especially the American army, were formally thrown open.

No discourse marked the ceremony of dedication. It was only a silent tribute to the memory of the dead. Resident Millerand on his arrival received the guard of honor and then greeted Ambassador Herrick, Col. T. Key Mott, the military attaché at the French embassy, and the other members of the diplomatic corps. Then, followed by numerous company of diplomats and military attachés and many American civilians, the president passed through the commercial district, including the use devoted to the United States, France, Portugal, Belgium, Japan, Italy, Rumania, Yugoslavia and the United States.

The president also visited a special train named in honor of the late Admiral Victor Sues, who perished

Jack Daw in Candy Land. Chapter 23

At this moment Flip started to growl. This startled Jack and he said, "What's the matter, Flip?" Another low growl was the reply. Then Jack noticed that all the Nut Fudges were looking off into the distance. "It's a Candy Land cyclone," shouted Caramel. "Everybody had better run for shelter."

But before they knew it the cyclone was upon them. Great white puffs came circling by. Jack looked about him and noticed that the little Nut Fudges were gradually fading from his sight. And Caramel, too, was suddenly out of view. Flip clung close to Jack and continued growling.

What harm can a candy cyclone do to me, thought Jack. And he decided to stay right where he was and see what this cyclone would do. Thicker and thicker grew the white puffs. Then they started forming into a queer mass just in front of Jack and his dog, Flip. (Continued.)

FATE OF LITTLE DORIS

Case of Girl Held By Blacks Will Come Up in Parliament

BY N.E.A. Service
LONDON, April 17.—The fate of a fair-skinned little English girl of seven years will occupy the attention of the British parliament and turn the sober lawmakers from their debates on matters of world-wide interest affecting the greatest empire on earth.

And because of parliament's interest in her, the little girl, Doris Hawker, probably will be taken away from her black foster-parents who are holding her at Madras, India, and will be brought back to her native England.

Here is Doris' strange story:
Doris was one of the children in a London orphanage. She watched native women come, bent on adopting little ones—ladies of the aristocracy in their fine gowns, wives of middle-class merchants in plainer gowns and others. But Doris, though a beautiful child, never was taken. And daily she would wait wistfully and long for a home with a daddy and mother.

Then came a bright day. An attendant told Doris a home had been found for her. And how happy Doris was!

"But your new mother and dad are in India," the attendant added. "They are wealthy English people who live there. You'll be put on the ship today and they'll meet you when the ship reaches port."

So Doris, ever so gay and happy, was put on board the big liner. And the ship traveled and traveled for so many days Doris couldn't count them.

Then they came to a strange country, where the sun was hotter than it ever had been in England, where people were wearing white saris and wrapped things that looked like towels around their heads.

Her Strange Parents
Doris was the first down the gang-

DORIS HAWKER

plank, so eager was she to meet her new parents with whom she was to be so happy in this strange country.

Then she met them—and recoiled in terror.

They were dark-skinned people and seemed to have a wild, foreign atmosphere about them. When they spoke to each other, they used a strange tongue Doris couldn't understand.

They were kind, but Doris was none the less thoroughly afraid. And her terror increased when the strange pair took her to their home—a little, squat dwelling, surrounded by narrow, ill-lighted and smelly streets.

There were no children in these streets save dark-skinned ones who made faces at Doris and shouted words that had no meaning for her.

Weeps and Prays
So every night Doris would cry herself to sleep and pray that she might be returned to people of her own kind.

Perhaps it was her prayers—but any way the news of the irregular adoption leaked out in Madras. It aroused public indignation everywhere.

And now Doris Hawker, member of parliament, says she'll take Doris' problem before the house of commons.

"I intend to show," says Becker, "that Doris' foster-parents represented themselves as English people while, in reality, they are native blacks of the lowest caste. She is being held in a native quarter, under conditions unsuitable for any English child. I want her brought back."

And, Doris, over in Madras, hopes parliament will listen kindly to Becker.

GAVE CHARMING RECITAL PORTRAIT OF EDWARDS

Members of Middlesex Women's Club Hear Miss Edith Bennett, Soprano

Members of the Middlesex Women's club, turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon to hear Miss Edith Bennett, soprano, of Concord, N. H., whose rise in musical circles has been marked by exceptional rapidity and whose attainments now make her much sought after as a recitalist.

Miss Bennett's musical education and training is entirely American and perhaps on this account not a small amount of interest is attached to hearing her. Also, she is an interesting singer. Yesterday, she chose to sing compositions not at all along the beaten track, compositions from the pens of music masters whose names are not generally seen on local programs. At least, it is fair to say they made up a recital of unusual charm.

Singing in a hall no larger than the meeting place of the Women's club, it was evident that Miss Bennett made no attempt to parade her voice in all its power. For colonial hall is too restricted in size and the fact that she seemed to realize this and suited her tone volume to the atmosphere was ample proof of her intelligent artistry. That there was ample power in reserve was very apparent.

Beautiful indeed were the effects attained by Miss Bennett in a group of French songs and to all her numbers she gave a generous touch of individuality to make each one stand out as a finished effort.

Miss Bennett received splendid support from her accompanist, Rodney Saylor, who was sharp to bring out the mood of every song and bring to the fore qualities one less expert than he might have missed.

The program in full follows:

- I. O. Cassate di Paganini.....Scherzetti
Aria di Poppa.....Handel
The Sweet Little Girl That I Love.....Old English
Shepherd, Thy Demander Vary.....Old English

Lowell Teachers' Organization Presents Portrait of General to Lowell Post

The Lowell Teachers' Organization last night presented to Lowell Post, American Legion, a splendid portrait of Gen. Charles E. Edwards, commander of the Yankee division, to be hung in the Legion quarters at the Memorial Auditorium. Because of the enforced absence from the city of Miss Carolina A. Downey, president of the organization, the gift was presented by letter and graciously accepted for the post by Commander Joseph A. Molloy.

Miss Downey's letter of presentation follows:

Members of the American Legion, Post 87, Lowell, Mass.

Friends:—The members of the Lowell Teachers' Organization, desirous of showing their appreciation of the services rendered by the Lowell boys in the World War, present this portrait of Gen. Edwards, the gallant commander of the famous 25th division, to the local post of the American Legion. Our members feel a personal interest in the Legion, since many of the boys who gave their lives in the World War, and many of those who came home, were once pupils in our schools. Their teachers are proud of them as loyal citizens of our city.

Since the people of Lowell have erected such a magnificent building in your honor and that of your departed comrades, we deem it a privilege to help adorn the walls of your headquarters.

We hope when you gaze on this picture the same feeling of patriotism will be aroused in you as in the days when you were serving your country.

Very truly yours,
CAROLINA A. DOWNEY.

Pres. Lowell Teachers' Organization.

During the Legion meeting an urgent request was made that all members participate in the parade Wednesday evening in connection with the meeting under the auspices of the Organized Reserve and that they meet together at 7:15 p. m.

A committee composed of Charles A. Stevens, Joseph A. Molloy, Colin C. MacDonald and James P. O'Donoghue was appointed to maintain liaison between the post and the G.A.R. and Spanish War Veterans.

LOWELL ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY CONCERT

If all reports are true about the concert of the Society for Wednesday evening, April 18th, at Colonial hall, there is no doubt but what a very large audience will greet the reappearance of the orchestra representing Lowell's best instrumentalists in their performance of recognized standard works as played by all large orchestras throughout this country. The popular price of fifty cents introduced by the Society for such a class of music will be appreciated in a large measure by the numerous class of music lovers.

The personnel of the orchestra consists of the following:

Violins—Mrs. Florence N. Crawford, concertmaster, Edmund L. Bailey, I. Browder, Harry Davidson, Herbert Carlson, Alfred D'Arenzo, Harry Gier, John Gilbride, J. Joseph Goldman, Katherine Kearney, Raymond E. Martin, Robert McNamee, Edwin McLeod, Valdo E. Murphy, Mrs. A. B. Rostler, Mrs. V. Stone, Lillian Sullivan, T. A. D. Sullivan, Julius Woussner.

Violas—Walter Hancock, Mark M. Pease.

Basses—Lewis H. Carpenter, Arthur Greeley, William Aitken.

Flutes—Z. Bissonette, Fred Gaudette.

Oboe—Charles Thompson.

Clarinet—R. J. Edmunds, F. La-gasse, Miriam Warren.

Bassoon—G. Bonsignore.

Trumpets—Edmund H. Gunther, E. Lagasse, Raymond McLittick, Wilbur Roberts.

Trombone—Robert W. Parkin.

French horns—A. Warren Churchill, Edward T. Toward.

Timpani—Romeo Couture.

Drum—L. C. Wells.

Executive officers—Thomas A. D. Sullivan, president; Arthur Greeley, vice president; Bernice M. Russell, secretary-treasurer.

Board of directors—E. T. Toward, Walter Hancock, Romeo Couture, Florence N. Crawford, Graham Pascal.

FOR BENEFIT OF CAR SHOP STRIKERS

A smoke talk and entertainment for the benefit of the Boston & Maine car shop strikers will be held tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Pawtucketville Social club. The affair will be held in the quarters of the organization at the corner of Moody st. and Gershom avenue and it is expected it will be largely attended. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Zenon Morrisette, chairman; Arthur H. Giroux and Frank Al-lard.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Grace Lanthier, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Harry Tet-reault, was recently tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home. The affair was largely attended and all present spent a most enjoyable evening. The young woman was showered with handsome and valuable gifts and the entertainment which followed, included a mock marriage participated in by Miss Myrtle O'Hara, Miss Annette Dubouche and Miss Celia Soed. Games were played and refreshments were served. The affair was in charge of Miss Celia Soed and Mrs. Alice Lancelot.

ACCIDENT BOARD CASES AT CITY HALL TODAY

As a result of a conference held this morning at city hall, between John H. Cogswell and the Industrial Accident board and City Solicitor O'Sullivan, the compensation of Anthony Burns, a former employee of the street department, was ordered stopped, the order dating back to March 31.

Burns, who is a veteran of the world war, lost his right arm on the battlefield. Some time last year he was given employment by the street department as a watchman in Bridge street, during the reconstruction of the Central bridge. On October 3 of the same year, he was struck by an automobile and sustained injuries to his left arm. He was treated at St. John's hospital and was paid a compensation by the city under the workman's compensation act. In the latter part of March, Burns, who had fully recovered from the injuries sustained while at his work, became troubled with his right shoulder and was sent to a government hospital, where he is still confined, and it is for this reason that the city has requested and obtained permission from the industrial accident board to discontinue his compensation.

Mr. Cogswell also presided over a hearing in the afternoon chamber at city hall this morning in the case of Mrs. Emma Grant, an employee of the Massachusetts mills, who on December 1 last fractured her collar bone while performing her regular duties at the plant. Mrs. Grant requests further compensation and was represented this morning by James Henry Gilbride. The insurer, the American Mutual company, was represented by Fred A. Lavigne of Boston.

Another hearing was held in the case of George Fournier against the American Mutual company. Fournier, an employee of the Appleton company, sustained internal injuries while lifting a box at the mill and was later operated upon. The operation was successful and Fournier returned to work February 9. The hearing was held for the purpose of discontinuing compensation and the request was granted.

GOLD FOR BALLINGER

Fred Ballinger, former number of years overseer at the Silsbee Works in North Chelmsford, has secured his connections with the company to accept the position of assistant superintendent of the Saxony mills in Newton. Upon leaving the mill Mr. Ballinger was presented a purse of gold by the board of overseers of the plant, who also wished him success in his new venture.

Rev. Asa Reed Pitts, former pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of this city, now helping a pastor in Northampton, is visiting in the city for a few days.

The second annual recital of the pupils of Miss Charlotte M. Greene, teacher of social and ball room dancing, will be held Friday evening 20th instant, in Colonial hall and the event promises to be a most enjoyable social function. Special features will be introduced of a patriotic character illustrating the ball room evolutions in which Miss Greene is an adept. The reception is not confined to the pupils.

Captain Joseph M. Reilly, local representative of the 34th division, organized reserves, will be at the Sun office Friday and Saturday evenings to meet any who may wish to sign up in this unit. The demand at present is for non-commissioned officers, but there are still a few vacancies for officers and specialists in the many branches of this service.

Saco-Lowell Shops Begin Work of Razing Houses
Continued

The Saco-Lowell is ready to begin the erection of its first new plant, running along Dutton street from Broadway for a distance of 400 feet, just as soon as buildings now on that portion of the land are demolished. Within a year this new structure would be completed, according to estimates of engineers.

Although the council is interested in this first building, it is in relation to further expansion that the council is particularly concerned, especially in regard to when the company would erect the twin to the first building and the land to be made available by the closing of Worthen street. It is believed that this phase of the matter will receive considerable discussion tonight.

Several councilors when seen and questioned on the proposition today said they are particularly interested in the plans for the rear part of the land, that part which includes Worthen street and runs back as far as hold-ings of the Locks and Canals Corp. The first building to be erected will have a depth of 30 feet, which would not carry it back as far as the Worthen street line and this plant could be erected without disturbing the street in any particular. If further plans provide for the erection of the second building at a definite time, there will be little or no opposition to the proposition, it is believed. If, however, such plans are indefinite, proponents may be found within the council.

The gray frame dwelling houses now being torn down in Kilson street have been, with others, similarly constructed in that area, landmarks for years. Many people are unable to visualize that neighborhood without them and their passing brings a sentimental twinge to persons who associate them with Lowell's earlier life.

It is the intention of the Saco-Lowell officials to raze these buildings just as rapidly as they become vacant and their tenants are comfortably housed elsewhere. The company has done everything possible to aid its tenants to find other homes and with its own trucks has been of great assistance in the work of moving household effects.

TWO OFFICERS KILLED HARRY P. KNAPP DEAD

Shot to Death in Battle With Rum-runners Near Violet, Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—Deputy Sheriff Bolo Estopinal of St. Bernard parish and federal prohibition officer August Esteve were shot and killed in a fight with rum-runners at the Lake Borgne Canal bridge near Violet, La., early today, according to a report received at police headquarters.

A body was found at each end of the bridge. It was reported that one of the runners received a bullet wound.

PUBLIC INVITED TO HEAR SENATOR WALSH

An invitation is extended to the public by the chamber of commerce to hear United States Senator David I. Walsh tomorrow noon in Liberty hall. Reservations for luncheon will be completely filled but the hall will be opened to the public at 12:30, thus giving people time enough to be seated before the senator starts his speech.

As far as is known now, Senator Walsh will motor to Lowell to be met at the Auditorium by a reception committee headed by it. Hutchins Parker of the chamber of commerce, because the senator has been busy addressing many organizations in various cities the past week it has been difficult to reach him, so that local chamber of commerce officials will not know definitely until early tomorrow morning of his arrival.

CANADIAN CHECKER CHAMPION HERE

Harry L. Bailey of Dorchester, self styled checker champion of Canada, is in this city, playing against the pick of the lower enthusiasts. He has already played matches at the Broadway Social and Athletic club and the South End club, and in the immediate future he will meet several of the best home players at the Y.M.C.A.

Bailey has been active in checkers since his boyhood days. It is a common occurrence for him to play from 50 to 100 games while blindfolded, against capable players, and emerge victor in practically every contest. In 1919, while a mere youngster he met and defeated a champion, locally he played a draw match with Newell Black, the American champion, in Boston.

SALE OF PART OF BARTLETT ESTATE

Another large real estate deal has been put through and agreements signed today by Martin Robbins & Son, 18 Merrimack street. The property involved is a part of the estate of the late Erasmus A. Bartlett of Chelmsford, Mass., and was purchased by Samuel Fudin and Bennett Silverblatt of this city for investment purposes. The property involved comprises the following described premises: A 5-tenement block numbered 559-565 Broadway with 4516 square feet of land; a 2-tenement house in Mill court with 1389 square feet of land; a cottage house at 109 Allen avenue, with 2622 square feet of land; a 4-tenement property at 65-67-69 Agawam street with 12,150 square feet of land. The purchase price is not made public.

BROKEN TROLLEY WIRE TIES UP TRAFFIC

Trolley service on the Lakeview line was tied up for a short while early this morning when a trolley wire broke near the stone crusher, just beyond Parker avenue. Only one trip was affected, temporary repairs being made immediately, and service was normal again at 6:30.

Merrimack Park opens again next Thursday, for the day, and cars will be available for use on that line if riding becomes heavy. The park manager expects that dances will be held there one or two nights a week from now on until the weather is warm enough for the park to remain open all the time.

EAGLES, NOTICE!

The next regular meeting of Lowell Aerie will be held Thursday evening, April 17, at 7:45. Election of delegates to the Massachusetts State Aerie convention which will be held at Lawrence, will take place at this meeting. By order, TIMOTHY E. BARRY, W. Pres. JOHN M. HOBAN, Sec.

"My--what a Relief!"

Often you have heard such a remark when one of your friends was changing from "stiff shoes" into "comfy" house slippers.

It's natural that "stiff arch" shoes should tire you out. Each time the foot bends, the unyielding arch prevents natural flexing of the foot arch, restricts circulation and causes fatigue.

Rev. Fr. Barrett Dead

Antonio, Texas, where he took charge of St. Peter's parish. After several years of laborious work among the negroes, he was transferred to Holy Angels parish, Buffalo, N. Y., where he was assistant and held many important positions in the community.

In 1905 he was again transferred to the Sacred Heart church in Lowell and remained here as assistant pastor for about six years. Owing to failing health, he was sent to the Northville in Tewksbury and lived there in retirement until his death.

The many friends amongst the clergy and laymen of Canada and the United States will be pained to learn of his death for he was always highly esteemed and beloved by those with whom he came in contact. His zeal, piety and self-sacrifice won for him the admiration of countless souls with whom he ever ready to console them in sorrow and affliction and to whom he tendered his kindly, fatherly advice.

Rev. Fr. Barrett was a noted linguist, an excellent professor and always proved himself deeply interested in the welfare and education of youth. He was of a retiring, amiable disposition, an ardent Irishman and was always ready to defend the cause of Erin.

The body lies in state in the Tewksbury Northville. Funeral services will be held Thursday at an hour to be announced later.

Lowell Masons Present at Dedication Services of Masonic Temple in Lawrence, Yesterday

Lowell Masons had an active interest in the services held in Lawrence yesterday at the dedication of the new Masonic temple in that city and high officers of local lodges of the order, as well as Lowell men who now serve and have served in the grand body attended.

Among the prominent Lowell men who took part in the dedicatory exercises were Past Grand Master Arthur

D. Prince, Frank W. Debern, senior grand warden and local representative on the grand lodge staff; Arthur G. Pollard, Harry G. Pollard and Herbert E. Fletcher, past deputy grand masters and Col. Charles S. Proctor, past grand warden. Many other Lowell Masons attended. The exercises were under the direction of Most Worshipful Dudley H. Ferrell, grand master.

The handsome new temple was thrown open for public inspection last Saturday afternoon and hundreds took this opportunity to enjoy it. On Sunday evening a pre-dedication service was held at the Lawrence Street Congregational church.

While the architecture of the building is along simple lines, it is most majestic in appearance and truthfully expresses the traditions of the fraternity. The exterior is of classic design. The building rests upon a strong rusticated base. The main facades are adorned with massive, fluted Ionic columns and all the main exterior walls are of light gray granite composite cast stone.

Past Grand Master Arthur D. Prince of this city, who laid the corner stone of the building, was a speaker at the dedication banquet served last night in the dining hall of the temple. In leading to the banquet room were scenes of potted plants and baskets of flowers artistically arranged and the national colors were prominently displayed just inside the main entrance.

Other speakers at the banquet were: Most Worshipful Dudley H. Ferrell, Grand Master of Massachusetts; Most Excellent Curless Chinman, grand high priest of Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Massachusetts; Most Illustrious Dean K. Webster, Grand Master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of Massachusetts; Right Eminent James C. Blake, Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Massachusetts and Rhode Island; and Most Venerable Leon M. Abbott, Sovereign grand commander of the northern jurisdiction of the United States.

Bill to Borrow $700,000 For New School Not Complete

Including the mayor, members of the school committee and city councilors who voted to approve it.

The blank petition form has been filled out by Mr. Williams and given to City Messenger Owen A. Monahan who will secure the necessary signatures before tomorrow noon, to allow the bill and petition to be again filed for presentation to the legislature. As soon as bill and petition are received in proper form, Rep. Corbett, a resident of the district in which it is planned to erect the school, will sign it and personally introduce it in the house. Undoubtedly, without debate, it will be referred to the house committee on rules on the question of admittance under the head of local legislation.

The committee on rules of which Rep. Victor F. Jewett of Lowell is chairman, probably will hold a hearing on the matter at which persons interested and others in opposition, will be given an opportunity to tell why it should or should not be admitted.

It is the committee on rules votes to admit the bill it will go to the committee on municipal finance on the real question, that of whether the city will be allowed to step outside the limit of indebtedness to the extent of $700,000. Another hearing will be held by this committee and at that time, proponents will be obliged to go into plans in detail, including size and location particularly.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups and saves about 80% Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

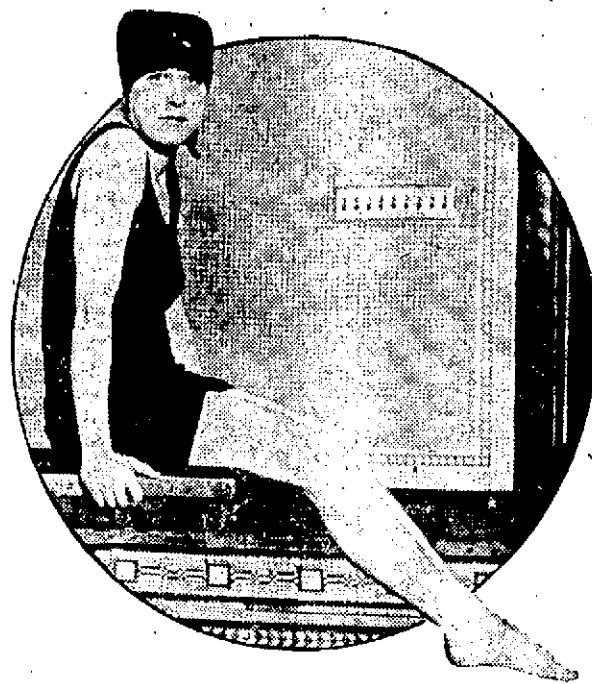

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really refreshing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of pure Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything less. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HELD ANNUAL BANQUET

Non-Commissioned Officers of Battery B, 102nd F. A., Have Special Guests

The annual banquet of the non-commissioned officers of Battery B, 102nd F. A. was held last night in Cole's Inn. As special guests of the battery there were present Capt. George J. Fancourt, Lieut. George W. Emaley and Lieut. Harry Jerome. Capt. Fancourt was called upon for a speech and he responded by outlining a proposed five day trip to New York for any members of the battery desiring to go. The trip will start on or about Labor day.

After the banquet it was announced that there will be no drill for Battery tonight, but all men are requested to report at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow evening to assist the visiting general to the meeting of the Organized Reserves.

Non-Commissioned Officers' association are as follows: President, Sergt. Walter Mitten; vice president, Harry Hale; secretary-treasurer, Ray Richards.

For "Safe" Peace in Ireland

Continued
"More seeds of bitterness will be sown and the spirit of revenge will be kept alive by the women. Thus the children will grow up as in the past with a spirit of hatred for the existing institutions bred in their bones."

"There is a growing feeling that De Valera should, if possible, be given a chance to save his face."

As an indication of the prevalent feeling, the correspondent quotes the Irish Times as advocating a conference between a government representative and the republicans with a neutral chairman. It suggests Monsignor Luzzo for this post.

The newspaper admits that the idea may not be pleasing to the government but says a conference is the only alternative to a continuation of the fighting until the extremists have been utterly crushed.

It urges that the government could not be endangered by such a conference which might bring a "safe" peace, the only peace the nation can afford to accept.

LOOMFIXERS ENDORSE ACTION OF CONFERENCE BOARD IN REJECTING PROFFERED WAGE INCREASE

The action of the New England conference board of the United Textile Workers of America to reject the 12 1/2 per cent wage increase recently granted to mill operatives all over New England, which is scheduled to become operative April 30, was endorsed by the Loomfixers' union of this city at a meeting held last evening. The meeting, which was largely attended, was presided over by President Joseph E. Jernery.

John Hanley, business agent and secretary of the organization, reported that the New England Conference board went on record as rejecting the wage increase and favoring the 20 1/2 per cent raise asked for by the Fall River textile operatives a few weeks ago. Mr. Hanley also made a lengthy report on the proposed field day that is being organized by the board and which will be held in Fall River next May.

In the course of the meeting it was voted to keep the charter of the union open until June 1 in order to give former members of the organization an opportunity to be reinstated. The matter of dealing with those who have been expelled from the union because of strike breaking was left entirely in the hands of the executive board.

Although next Thursday will be a holiday, the regular meeting of the Trades & Labor council will be held as usual on that night. It had been planned to postpone the meeting, but owing to a large amount of important business to be transacted, the officials of the council deemed it more advisable to hold the meeting on that night. The mass meeting, to which all are invited, will start promptly at 8 o'clock with Congressman John Jacob Rogers presiding. The speakers are Major General Robert Bullard, Major General Andre Brewster, Brigadier General Mark L. Hersey, Congressman Rogers and "Uncle Dudley" Page.

At the supper at the Washington club, prior to the parade and mass meeting, the city government will be the host to the visiting officials. As many officers of the Organized Reserve can be accommodated will be present at this supper.

Major General Bullard is the commanding officer of the Second Corps Area, located at the Governor's Island, New York, and is known all over the country as a speaker of more than usual ability. Brigadier General Hersey is also a well known speaker and army official, having had charge of Camp Devens during the World war.

Major General Brewster is the commanding officer of the First Corps Area, located at Boston, and is too well known in Lowell to need any introduction. Congressman Rogers and Mr. Page are both local men.

Mr. Page's talk will be of exceptional interest to the Organized Reserve as he served in the old 11th corps during the Civil war and his talk will be mainly about the line of the service which this unit underwent during that war.

A get-together of the men of the Organized Reserve will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Many of these men have never seen their commanding officers, and many of the officers have never met their men. Tomorrow's meeting will give them an opportunity to meet one another and understand more fully the work that is ahead of them with the reserve corps.

Lieut. Col. George W. Langdon of Haverhill is the commanding officer of the 28th Field Artillery of the 11th corps and it is under him that most of the Lowell men in the reserves come. Captain Joseph A. Molloy is in command of the 1st battalion headquarters unit, and Major Percy J. Wilson of Lowell is in command of the 412th Engineers. Captain Joseph M. Heilly, also of Lowell, is the local representative of the 94th Division.

Company M. Machine Gun Company, 182nd Infantry, under Capt. George D. Crowell, will participate in the parade. The purpose of the Organized Reserve is to build up an army of officers and non-commissioned officers who could, in case of war, train the men, thus giving the regular army freedom to plunge directly into the war. During the World war one of the greatest deficiencies in our system was that regular army men, officers and non-commissioned officers, were compelled to leave away from their old companies and go to the same training camps to give the new recruits and draft men the training which is absolutely necessary. With a large reserve corps the necessity for a large standing army is greatly diminished, and the army would be able to leave all training to the touch of the service. New England, the Lowell section particularly, leads all the rest of the country in the reserve but the officers in command feel that more will sign up from Lowell after hearing the greatest army men and statesmen explain the reserve army law and the necessity of it.

The time is 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the Auditorium and everyone who can get in the hall is invited to attend.

DIVORCE GRANTED TO MRS. BLANCHE FERRON

Blanche Ferron of this city was granted a divorce from Henry Ferron in the probate court before Judge John P. Leggat this morning. Back in 1909 Henry Ferron was declared to be insane and was committed to the asylum at Bridgewater. At a later period he was judged sane and was allowed to go free.

At the present time he is believed to be residing in Canada. He did not appear to contest the charges of Mrs. Ferron.

ATTACHMENT FILED
An attachment against the property of William A. Mitchell of Chelmsford, to the value of $1,000, in an action at tort, was filed yesterday in the clerk of deeds office, at the county court house, in answer to Leon R. Blackett of Lowell. The hearing is set for the second Saturday in May.

MEN INJURED WHEN

Three men riding in a Mack truck towed by David Ziskind had narrow escapes from serious injury this morning when the big machine lurched to the side of the roadway near the corner of Rogers street and Clark road in an attempt to avoid running down a dog and crashed over on its side. The three men, Hyman Travers, the operator, and Thomas Bell of 109 Railroad street and Patrick Donahue, of 2 Erie street, were thrown heavily to the ground and Bell and Donahue were injured. The driver, Ziskind, who was rushed to St. John's hospital, Bell was discharged shortly after his arrival but Donahue was confined for the purpose of an X-ray examination of his leg and internal injuries. The accident occurred shortly after 3 o'clock. Travers attempted to maneuver his big truck to avoid hitting the dog and in addition to being unsuccessful, the machine shot off the traveled way and overturned.

TWO DIE WATCHING FIGHT
BUENOS AIRES, April 17.—Two spectators at a boxing match in Cordoba of heart disease yesterday as they watched a fight which was not unusual exciting. The deaths occurred almost simultaneously at the end of the third round of the bout.

GIRL BALL PLAYER DEAD
ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 17.—Miss
Austine Figler, who a year ago led the country with an all-women's seaball nine, was buried today. She died Friday after an operation.

Dr. Lane said that he saw Sacco in a cell on October 18, 1927, in company with another inmate.

de to Mr. Moore on October 1, 1964, in which he said Sacco had been "hearing noises in the cell for a long time, but nothing which 'they' put in his milk." He was feeling a numbness at his body and having moved him had become "restless." Sacco had "no feeling in his ear while he was sleeping." The report expressed the opinion that Sacco was suffering from delirium, a condition which, if true, would mean that his reason and power was gone, that he was "in a psychotic state," that he was "in a genuine paranoid but that it is not likely to gain his freedom the delirium might leave him.

On October 1, 1964, an officer at the prison testified concerning Sacco's attitude, feeling that he was being persecuted while in the jail workroom. He had been "in a bad mood" since Sacco's direction by another prisoner, but not intentionally at

It was arranged under the defense attorneys' supervision that the letters taken into the jury room during final deliberations in the case, totaling 10, were taken from the room and taken from Sacco's cell after his arrest, and the pistol itself, which was sent to Ruston for forensic photographic study, in order to bring out certain marks. The procedure in the jury room of the first trial, the defense attorneys charged, Walter L. Tjallingii, produced by Forensic Laboratories, Inc., of New York, made the subject of exception to the findings by the defense. "Learning of the question of Sacco's sanity will be exhaustive," Tjallingii indicated in a statement in the corridors, when he said that all persons who had been at the Boston Psychopathic hospital, who have an opportunity to observe Sacco

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

HIGGLEDY—HIGGLEDY

"HOW D'YE DO?" SAID NANCY. "WHAT'S YOUR NAME?"

The next person the twins met in Sugar-Plant Land was a black hen with a red fanned comb, glass bead eyes and paste board feet. Her feathers were real, however, and as black as coal.

"How d'ye do?" said Nancy. "What's your name?"

"Higgledy Higgledy what else?" answered the black hen. "I lay eggs for gentlemen just as the rhyme says. Also I lay sometimes blue and sometimes ten, and sometimes a hundred which no live hen would ever think of doing."

"Then how does it happen that you can?" asked Nick.

"Easy as pie," replied Higgledy Higgledy. "I'm as full of candy eggs as a pin cushion is of sawdust. My head unsews and the rest of me is hollow like the Green Sugar Pig. I think that the Easter Bunny is going to put me into some child's Easter basket. But I'll tell you a secret. I'm mortified to death."

"Why?" asked Nancy.

"The Chocolate Rabbit told the Green-Sugar Pig and the Pig told the Knick Knack Elephant, and the Elephant told the Pink (relative) Fish, and the Fish told the Maple-Sugar Rooster, and he told me that the Easter Bunny was going to put Fuzzy Wuzzy, the Yellow Duckling, into the same basket with me."

"Won't you like that?" asked Nick. "He will be good company."

"Like it? I feel like fainting. Good company, indeed? Why everybody with this he's my own, and not wishing to separate us, they will keep us together the rest of our lives. I just know I shall be set on the nursery mantel shelf with him right beside me and there we'll stay till kingdom come."

"If you feel as cut up about it, perhaps we can fix it," said Nick Nancy. "I shall ask the Gingerbread Man to speak to the Easter Bunny. Perhaps he'll change Fuzzy Wuzzy for a nice downy chick."

"Thank you," exclaimed Higgledy Higgledy. "I shall be very grateful."

MR. NILSSON'S CASSEROLE

By BERTHA J. SHAPLEIGH

Of Columbia University

Trim fat from one-half pound of raw pork and try out the fat. In one tablespoon of the tried-out fat fry one small onion, thinly sliced and chopped, and the lean raw pork, chopped. Mix this with one pound of chopped beef steak, add one-half teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of paprika, and a pint of scalded milk a little at a time, beating it until light.

Shape into balls about the size of an egg, and roll each ball in flour mixed with a little salt. Place a layer of half of these balls in the bottom of the casserole and on top a layer of six small sausages. Then another layer of the balls and another of six sausages.

Cover the dish and bake one hour in a hot oven.

73 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

SEEKS $25,000 TO BEGIN
C. U. STADIUM

Twenty-five thousand dollars is to be raised by May 1 to drain and grade the athletic field at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. This is the first step toward the erection of a stadium, to cost not less than $400,000.

The athletic committee of the annual has undertaken the task of raising the money and is directing the campaign to members in all parts of the country. The completed stadium will be 440 feet long and 350 feet wide, and will be built of reinforced concrete. A sufficient portion of the concrete stands will also be constructed at once to provide seating capacity for 8000.

The committee in charge of the campaign includes Clarence B. Martin of Martinsburg, W. Va., chairman ex-officio; Arthur D. Maguire, Detroit, chairman; Eugene Edwards and Edward J. Martin, Washington; John J. Greer and John A. Glavin, Philadelphia; Louis H. Cook, professor of mechanics at the university, has been named treasurer; J. Harvey Cain, secretary of the administration, has been named secretary of the committee.

"The Catholic university is going to have the best football team in the country," declared Chairman Maguire, "and it is going to have one of the best stadiums that money can erect."

"We have everything necessary to put a team in the field that will keep on top, and we intend to support that material by actual work. Our first step, of course, will be to put the building in shape. This can be done by grading and draining. We will raise the money for this purpose. Then we will get after the athletes we have in the university. They will be rounded up and also put in shape. This will not be a hard task as we have one of the best equipped gymnasiums in the country for the workouts."

"When we have raised the money for draining and grading, we are going out strong for the stadium. Every member of the alumni will be solicited. We are going at it systematically, too, and meetings are to be held in the larger cities."

"New York recently rounded up all the old boys in that city and a raising meeting was held. They are working now for the old alma mater. This will extend all over the country, and it will not be a long time before actual work on the stadium is commenced."

Several contractors are preparing bids, and it is expected that dirt will be turned by May 1. The site selected is a natural one, with hills on three sides, and at a cost of less than half a million a stadium equal to the best in the country can be built."

FRYING IN DEEP FAT

When frying doughnuts or French fried potatoes or any food that is fried in deep fat do not put in too many pieces at any one time or you will lower the temperature too much and the fat will be absorbed.

COLONIAL PARTY BY
NOTRE DAME ALUMNAE

All plans are completed for the second annual Colonial party of the Notre Dame Alumnae association in Liberty hall, Auditorium, Wednesday evening, April 18.

Mrs. Teresa Mahoney Donovan, soprano soloist of Andover, and Dr. Geo. L. Dwyer, tenor soloist of one of the leading Boston choirs, will give a group of songs.

Senator David I. Walsh has accepted an invitation extended to him by the alumnae and will be present for a brief time. The following prominent men are on the reception committee to the senators:

Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Hon. Theo. J. Enright, Hon. Dennis J. Murphy, Mayor John J. Donovan, Henry L. Bourke, Dr. Joseph P. Kearney, Rev. Stephen J. McIntyre, Rev. Dr. Jas. A. Suplee, Rev. Thomas McDonough, Rev. James P. Lynch, John J. Sullivan, John Hart, James F. Corbett, Joseph P. Donohue, John V. Donoghue, Humphrey O'Sullivan, Dr. Patrick Meehan, Dr. Fred Murphy, Frank P. McGilly, J. Joseph Hennesey, George M. Harrigan.

Charles J. Leary is floor director with twenty-five aids.

POTATO PIE SUPPER
AND ENTERTAINMENT

A potato pie supper and entertainment was conducted by two Irish-American bands recently at Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street. The affair was largely attended and proved very enjoyable for all concerned. The entertainment part of the program included numbers by the band and John Foster, John Toranahill, Miss Mary Dwyer, James Tison, Miss Annie Hopwood, Nortram Neild. The committee in charge consisted of James Lloyd, chairman; Robert Hollinsworth, vice chairman; John Blackburn, secretary; William Foster, Fred Farrington and Bertram Neild.

INGROWN TOE NAIL
TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

MEMORIAL AUDITORIUM

Trustees to Discuss Memorial

Tablets With Architects—

Organ Installation

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of trustees of the Memorial Auditorium last night, it was definitely decided to hold a conference next Friday evening with Blackall, Clapp & Whittemore, building architects, and members of the Auditorium building commission relative to the erection of suitable memorial tablets in the building to the memory of Lowell men and women who were killed or who died in the service of their country. Also, it is the desire of the trustees to get from the building commissioners their ideas in the matter of removing from Trophy hall the bronze plaque that bears their names.

A letter was received from Mr. Blackall, saying that next Friday night will be a convenient time for him to come to Lowell and the building commission, by Secretary Arthur L. Eno.

also notified the trustees of its willingness to attend the conference.

Again it was brought out at the meeting that the trustees are very anxious to inaugurate plans for the erection of memorial tablets, although they desire to obtain the views of the architects and building commissioners before going ahead.

Because of illness Trustees Thomas Boulger could not attend last night's meeting, which was conducted by Chairman Charles H. Hobson, Fred A. Estes and Mayor John J. Donovan.

The announcement that parts of the work of installation is in progress was received with much satisfaction, even though it is felt it is making a belated appearance. The installation work is in charge of Charles P. Whittam, a former Lowell man, and it is estimated the job will require two months.

BUREAUCRATIC SUBSIDY LURE

Washington bureaucracy is dangerous, and it is being advanced by a subsidy lure such as is attached to the Sheppard-Towner bill and also to the Smith-Towner bill under which taxes collected from the states would be distributed according to the needs of the individual states—a very unfair method, as the states that would contribute most would probably receive least.

Much interest is taken by other states in the test case brought by Massachusetts to decide the constitutionality of the Sheppard-Towner law otherwise known as the "Maternity" law.

In some way it is given out that the federal government under this act would establish at Washington a bureau of administration whose duty it would be to protect mothers and children; but the extent or precise nature of such protection is not set forth. But regardless of the good intentions of the people behind the measure, the principle of having the federal agents from Washington sent out to pry into the domestic affairs of the people is wrong and although offering a subsidy should be sternly resisted. If the supreme court of the United States declares the law unconstitutional, that will end the controversy over the issue; but should the court decide otherwise, the opposition which is only well started, will continue and become more earnest and aggressive until the principles of state rights and of personal liberty are rendered secure against federal invasion.

This law, like some others of the same nature, would offer a subsidy for each state accepting it, and this is the bait used to induce the states to accept the law. But the fact may be forgotten that the money thus received is collected from the states, and further, that while the thickly settled northern states will have to pay the greater portion of the tax, the southern states that contribute but a small proportion of the money raised will receive the more substantial subsidies.

That is one point on which about the law should be rejected. Governor Baxter of Maine set a fitting example in dealing with this measure when he said he would not sell the birthright of his state for a mess of pottage.

We have a sample of federal interference in the enforcement of the prohibition law. If federal agents and inspectors swarm among the people on the pretense of looking after mothers and little children, the next step may be to usurp the rights of parents and have all children placed in charge of the state as in ancient Greece.

If the Sheppard-Towner act be sustained, then several others of the same class will be enacted, with the result that bureaucracy will get a great impetus. It is regrettable that many women prominent in politics look to the federal government for activity in matters that properly are included in the scope of state rights.

It should be plain, however, that the various measures of this class tend to centralization of power at Washington, curtailment of state rights and of popular and personal liberty. Moreover, where two distinct agencies set about the same work, there will be duplication of effort and some important matters will be overlooked because each agency will assume they were attended to by the other. Already every state has its departments attending to such work and these are co-operating admirably with those of cities and towns; but should a federal agency for the same purpose intervene, there will be confusion of the very worst kind and continual conflicts of authority.

VICE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

There is much discussion in republican circles as to whether Harding and Coolidge will be linked again as colleagues on the republican presidential ticket next year. There is already apparent a strong undercurrent of opposition to Coolidge on the ground that he does not possess the personality likely to strengthen the ticket or to appeal to the voters of the western states. It is, therefore, quietly suggested by republican leaders that a different team must be selected for Mr. Harding. Party leaders recognize the fact that President Harding will not make a strong candidate nor a good campaigner. They would like a candidate for vice president who would surpass Harding in both respects, one of the very breezy western type with sufficient magnetism to appeal to the voters as a man of Mr. Coolidge's pliant temperamental could never do. It is true, that the vice president is not a magnetic speaker, although he turns out a great many epigrammatic sayings; and as republicans go he will probably rank as high in statesmanship as anybody likely to be selected in his place.

There are various precedents for making a change in the running mate of the president in a national election. Abraham Lincoln, the first republican president, had different team mates in his two campaigns, the first being Hannibal in 1860, and second, Johnson in 1864. Coffey was on the ticket with Grant in 1868 and Wilson, a Massachusetts man, was the vice presidential nominee in 1872. The Massachusetts republicans, however, will make a strong fight to secure the nomination of Coolidge for re-election and will keep his name to the forefront as an avowed candidate from this time forward.

ELECTRIC DRIVES IN MILLS

Any record of the development of electric drives for cotton mills must be made by the Lowell Textile School.

from the nature of things record largely the successful application of an individual motor to each separate machine. We note recent additions of the electric drive principle in several Lowell textile manufacturing plants and are informed that these developments constitute the most important advance in cotton mill practice in the past decade. Progress has been gradual, but each year records valuable work along constructive lines.

With something over 2,000,000 primary horse-power required to drive the cotton mills of the United States, records show that over 1,000,000 horse-power is electric.

The processes through which cotton passes from the bale to the finished product require certain types of machines which have become more or less standardized. The application of individual motor drives to many of the machines involved has been a comparatively easy task.

No one can dispute the claim that the model cotton mill of the future will be one where each machine or unit will have its own electric motor so that it can be driven by electric power alone as a sewing machine. The builders of textile machinery are taking greater interest in this form of drive and many machines ordered for new cotton mills in the south are now sold completely equipped with motor and control. The most satisfactory progress along such lines will be made in the future as in the past, through the cordial co-operation of the mill, the builders of textile machinery, the textile engineers and the builders of electrical equipment.

A TIP FROM THE SHOW WORLD

The New Bedford Standard suggests that the management of the Ringling circus, having sounded out business conditions all over the country, forecast good times and a profitable season. Last season the circus proprietors were not infallible, however. They mistakenly added one or two New England textile cities because of conditions in the textile industries. One large circus kept out of this territory, fearing "short money" and no profits. But other circus organizations came along just the same snatched up the best dates and played to the biggest days of the entire New England season.

As the New Bedford paper puts it, circus experts sometimes err, but they believe the advance men view this year's billing every New England textile city including Lowell, will have no cause to worry about financial receipts and profits. This is not one of the "lean" years.

HARDING

Grace Hudson, waitress who served President Harding many meals during his vacation in the south, describes him as a "light eater"—only a bowl of half and half for lunch, and for dinner a light meal with never any dessert.

Harding takes life easily and is not digging his grave with his teeth. This, and his sensible relaxation on the golf course keeps him healthy, though his job is of a higher nervous tension than any other under the government. His is a system that would keep most of us fit and happy. We eat too much, too fast, and do not get enough exercise. Then we wonder why we are not "feeling up to snuff."

TOM LAWSON

Tom Lawson, famous stock market operator of "frenzied finance" fame, advertises that he "must have money." So he offers to sell his best auto, saying, "As I am completely out of cash for summer smoking, I will take $500 in $10 bills of cash." Lawson is a great advertiser. In the same situation, most of us would be wearing a face a foot long. Lawson doesn't, so he'll probably soon come back and not have to trade pet cars for cigar money. Troubles cling to us when we take them too seriously. What's the difference in another hundred years?

WHO'S RESPONSIBLE?

That fatal accident—if it really was an accident—should cause Registrar Goodwin to adopt not only an intelligence test, but a sanity test, for those who apply for licenses to run motor vehicles. Any operator who will run a machine at 40 miles an hour through a crowd of people waiting to take a street car must be either wholly incompetent and criminally reckless or else drunk or insane. In either case, he was unfit to drive an auto on the public highways. The question is how can such qualities be determined in advance.

If, as alleged, the republican leaders have been trying to induce Louis A. Coolidge to become a candidate for the United States senate in 1924, it does not appear that they have been successful. But there is ample time ahead. Doubtless Coolidge would be acceptable to Senator Walsh as an opponent.

President Harding avows that the tariff on sugar is not responsible for the high price. If not, then the profiteers are responsible and it is the business of the government to find the culprits and punish them.

How to grant the Saco-Lowell company's petition and at the same time protect the city against large damage claims is the problem before the city council.

Two things are essential to local prosperity—first to keep the industries all here and second to induce new to settle here.

Wednesday will be a red letter day for Lowell in regard to prominent speakers at business and patriotic meetings.

All the unsightly and unsanitary backyards, highways and alleys should be cleaned up by Patriots day.

A thought: There is in the soul a taste for the good, as there is in the body an appetite for enjoyment.—Joubert.

Hard to please: "What was that old lady complaining about?" asked the grocer. "About the long wait," answered the clerk. "She must be very hard to please. Yesterday she complained about the short wait," mused the grocer.

The Suit Presser: The property man in a London movie studio appeared carrying an iron, not a suiting iron, but a laundry iron. "What are you doing with that?" he was asked. "Why," was the reply, "doesn't the script say, 'After meals Florida and presses his suit'?"

Kissing His Girl: A young man with a pretty but notoriously flirtatious fiancée wrote to a supposed rival, "I've been told that you have been seeing my girl." He was told by my office at 11 on Friday. I want to have this matter out. The rival answered: "I've received a copy of your circular letter and will be present at the meeting."

He Was Right: He saw her sitting in a dark corner and knew that his chance had come. Noisily he stole up behind her and gave her a kiss. "How dare you?" she cried. "I beg your pardon," he bluffed. "Why, I thought you were my sister." She came out into the light. "You silly idiot," she giggled. "I am."

Not a Clean Sweep: The head of the house came downstairs in an irate mood of mind and told his wife that Bobbie had taken some change from his pockets. "I don't think it fair of you to accuse Bobbie like that," said his wife. "You might as well say I'd taken it." "Oh, my dear," the brute answered, "it wasn't all taken, you know!"

Poor William: It was William's wedding morn, but alas! he overslept himself. When at last he awoke he dressed hurriedly, and rushed to the station to find that his train had gone. There was not another for an hour. Frantically he hurried to the telegraph office and wired to the bride, "Retained. Don't marry till I come."

Very Wise Girl: He was full of his trip in the Orient, the biggest trip in the world, and talking to his best girl between the acts of the play, he said: "Do you know, the Hesperus can steam 21 knots an hour." Taking another cigarette from the box that he rested his lap, she said, with a bright smile: "I suppose they steam the knots so that they can burn them more easily. Is that it, George?"

There Was No Escape: Parking was sympathetic with Hennebeck. "But why did you stop here?" he said. "I didn't." Was the reply. "She happened to me." "But you could have refused her?" persisted Hennebeck. "I couldn't," answered Hennebeck. "She said, 'Will you marry me? Have you any objection?' So whether I said yes or no, she had me either way." "Well," suggested Hennebeck, "you shouldn't have answered her." "I didn't," Hennebeck explained, "so she said, 'Silence gives consent' and that settled it."

Capital Jokes: Edward C. Little, U. S. representative from Kansas, told this story. In the spring of 1922 the Twentieth Kansas Volunteers under Col. Funston were fighting their way into Malabon, the big island in the Philippines. They were not far from Malabon when they had had a fight with the natives and had lost a number of men. "Well, I don't care," remarked Little, "I don't care so much for this kind of life. I don't care about this business. I guess I would have been better off if I had come and I had stayed at home."

Your Luck: Do not give up when things go wrong. You'll give way to despair. Just have a cheery little song and drive away all care. Your lot may seem heavy at first, but you should not let it gloom you. For what you call Bad Luck may be just what you need. Good Luck to some.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

In the passing of Wallace Drew, whose death occurred on Saturday after a sickness covering only a few days, Lowell lost a good upright citizen and those closely associated with him in a business and social way, a good friend. It was but last week, Monday, that the writer, in company with Wallace and his last words were: "I may call around Sunday afternoon and take you out for a ride." But the poor fellow didn't live to see the dawn of Sunday morning, having crossed the great divide Saturday. Wallace Drew always took good care of himself and was the picture of health. He was a man who weighed considerably over 200 pounds and did not carry any superfluous flesh. But despite the fact that his health had always been good and that he had kept himself in the pink of condition, he proved an easy victim for pneumonia. Wallace Drew was a man who enjoyed life and loved companionship. He was large in body, soul and mind and his disposition was gentle as that of a child. He loved his fellow man and sought to assist those in need of assistance. May he rest in peace.

It has been noticed that many of the school yards graded with concrete are in a very bad and even in a dangerous condition. As a result of the winter frost and recent rains, these yards are torn up and some of the concrete curbs are so sharp that children falling on them are liable to be badly cut or bruised. It would seem that in grading the school yards there should be a coating of fine broken stone or gravel deep enough to settle down so that it would not be torn up by heavy rains or winter storms.

That the similarity in names is confusing and misleading, has been proven a few days ago when Attorney Joseph P. Donahue of Fairmount street was befogged on the street by this friend and that with congratulations over a reported new arrival in the Donahue household. Joe didn't know what it was all about until he arrived home in the evening and was told by his wife that Joseph E. Donahue of Rogers street was the father of a baby boy.

No doubt the Merrimack Valley school superintendents were impressed last Friday with the work of Normal school students here. It was a pleasure to such of the future teachers going through the various exercises assigned them for the entertainment of the visitors, and if in after life, the present pupils, Lowell and other nearby cities and towns need never fear for the future of their education. Great credit for present day achievement in the local school is due the Principal, Charles W. Wood, whose interest in the work knows no bounds. He was the recipient of well-deserved congratulations from the distinguished visitors last Friday.

The life of a boxing promoter is not always a easy one. A few weeks ago a local man was found to be posturing a championship attraction, because one of the principals could not put in an appearance. The argument was prolonged two weeks and just when local fandom was ready for the fray, word was received at the last moment that the same individual was forced to cancel all engagements. And this after extensive preparations had been made for the staging of what was every evidence of being "the fight of the year." But that's the same, and the promoters enter it with the odds against them, knowing full well that they cannot direct the destinies of men. It costs a good deal to find it out, however, and that's where the real K. O. comes in.

Robert M. Pitt, president of the wool trade that bears his name, returns to Boston after an extended trip abroad, with the information that the woolen industry is in a more prosperous condition in England and on the continent than the cotton industry. The wool situation is strong, he states, with the prevailing opinion being that higher prices will prevail at the coming London sales.

SERIES OF TALKS

AT THE Y. W. C. A.

"The Psychology of the Adolescent Girl," was the theme of Mrs. Margaret Bagleton's talk to the members of the girls' reserve of the Y.W.C.A. here this afternoon. The lecture marked the opening of the course of six talks which will be given to the members of the Lowell department of reserves. Other lectures scheduled are: "The organization of the club," The girl and her activities, and the responsibility of leadership. Outside speakers, who are prominent in their fields and endeavor will be secured for these addresses.

PROHIBITION QUESTION

Vote in House Yesterday on

Bill Calling for Prohibition

Referendum

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 17.—Lowell's delegation in the house, voted almost solidly yesterday in favor of the bill introduced by Rep. Elijah Adlow of Boston calling for a referendum to the people at the next state election on the prohibition question. The bill was given an adverse report by the committee on local affairs but the house overturned their report 121 to 103 and substituted the bill, Reps. Henry Achin, Jr., Owen E. Brennan, Victor P. Jewett, E. L. Lewis and Charles J. Stoway all voted in favor of substitution.

Rep. Adlow's bill was only accepted after one of the most lively debates of the session. The Boston representative made a stirring speech in favor of his bill. Throughout it he warmly denounced the Anti-Saloon league and declared that they had in effect found that would "slagger the combined forces of the entire country."

"Charges that have been made that my bill is unconstitutional and un-American are not true," he declared. "This argument that we should not pass the measure because it is unconstitutional is ridiculous. It is a huzabon."

Rep. Maynard E. S. Clemens of Wakefield, who was in charge of the adverse report given on the measure by the committee on local affairs, declared that the Anti-Saloon league did not influence the committee. They had no more effect on us than any other organization has on any committee," he said. "The reason the committee is against this bill is because it believes it to be unconstitutional."

Rep. Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford remarked that some of the legislators were evidently dragged into voting for anything the Anti-Saloon league wanted. "When it is suggested that questions of this kind be sent to the people the Anti-Saloon league laughs," he said. "They are still laughing at this bill."

"Should we of the republican party whom the people has kept in power be asked to give any question to them? Great ancient and constant violators of the constitution but all laws is growing. Something must be done to stop it. I trust that the republican members are not afraid to be guided by the people's judgment and I hope that all good republicans will support this bill."

HOYT.

IN MEMORIAM

'Gene's dead, I shall not sit with him beside the glowing fire,

And argue over all the things we used to fight about;

The Bolsheviks in Russia, or the foreign trade of Tyre,

The cause of socialism, or the simplest cure for gout;

We disagreed so joyously, we battled with such vim

On every subject in the world, each topic that arose;

He never changed my views a bit, nor could I alter him,

CANADIAN TENOR AT THE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

Paul Dufault, Canadian tenor, who has been singing in the Canadian Mecca, will make his first appearance at the Auditorium this evening. ## BEECHAM'S PILLS Sweeten the Stomach

"TIZ" FIXES ACHING, SWOLLEN, SORE FEET

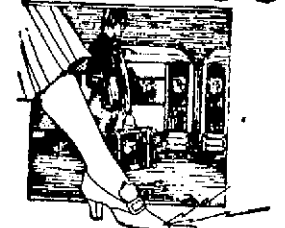

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, sore, aching, burning, corn-plagued, swollen, aching feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all three—just try "TIZ". It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ". It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous eruptions which puff up your feet and cause foot sore.

A few cents buys a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. Adv.

A Prescription for High Blood Pressure

Used By Buffalo Physician For Many Years With Great Success.

Since the beginning of the year druggists of the better class have been selling a vegetable preparation called NORMA, a very successful remedy for reducing high blood pressure to normal.

People who have no appetite, are moody and nervous, who have indigestion, hot flashes and dizzy spells probably have high blood pressure and don't realize it.

Norma is not a cure-all but it does reduce high blood pressure and for this purpose is used by many women at the changing time of life.

A. W. Lewis & Co. or any high class druggist will supply you with NORMA. Mail orders filled and by Norma Laboratories, Inc., Albany, N. Y.—Adv.

Child of Sea Brings Real Life to Reels

MISS JOAN LOWELL, 19, CONSIDERED MOST FASCINATING CATCH IN MOVIE NET OF RECENT DATE.

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

HOLLYWOOD, April 17.—She "talked with God" from the masthead of ships and "spat tobacco juice" with sailors on deck unawed by divinity and unsubdued by contact with rough men. Shipwreck, tempest and romance of the South Seas have been against this slim young nymph in a succession of adventures which single her out even among remarkable folk.

She has charmed her life by the north star, the Bible and the homely counsel of her skipper daddy who reared her from infancy to the age of 16 aboard his sailing vessel.

Her name is Joan Lowell. And she is the most fascinating catch of the far-flung movie net in many moons.

Whether or not she will be able convincingly to enact the concoctions of script writers remains to be seen. She has already done an interesting part as an Indian girl in Reginald Barker's "The Law Bringers" for the Mays organization.

But what vivid, elemental, first-hand romance she could contribute to a picture! What perplexities for the censors!

Tales of life as young as Eve as she observed it on the coral atolls of the Pacific, where black virgins twist the lotus blossoms over their ears when the sea sings; where a dusky version of St. Anthony's temptation is a feature of every bridal; where there is no divorce; and where philanthropists are banished to the outer reefs to scrape salt for the righteous; where she was so fitted to be queen every time her father landed for trade.

Detailed embellishment of all this and much more, the astonishing Miss Lowell, now 19, tells with the naive directness that shames oblique conventions. A girl strangely cultured for all her unrefined, steeped in Biblical and classical lore imbued in smoky canons, strong, fearless, clear-eyed—smoking white women for the first time three years ago.

"Circumstances," she said, "compelled daddy to take me to sea with him when I was a three-month-old babe. Everyone said I'd die. He fed me dried milk, kept me clean and trusted to God. Look at me now!

"I grew up with sailors. I cussed with the best of 'em. I could swim ship with my toes. Shirt and overalls were my only clothes. I understand rough men; they treated me with utter respect. I practiced with prize juice so that I could spit tobacco as far and as straight as they. I have knocked men down with my fist. They regarded me as their equal.

"When scurvy struck us, I drank the blood of porpoise with the others. I did not think of myself as a woman—not until shortly before I left the ship for good when a mate revealed to me a lifeboat. That was the dawn of self-consciousness.

"My father had always repressed any sentimental impulses, for fear I'd pine for my mother and women of my kind. My ideas of love and marriage were gleaned from what I observed on the island of Atafu. In the Union group, I found that for thrills pushes the Kenda Derby of the stage, and a wedding scene that is superb, even in the movies. To tell the story of the play, the outcome of the many thrilling incidents would spoil the play for those who will attend today and tomorrow. Suffice to say that it is a new treatment of a fairly old theme and the main question is whether the "dapper" stage or that time in life when marriage has begun to state is "The Dangerous Age."

A comedy, "Fun from the Press," good, it is well played and although the main theme is concerning family life, several incidents are introduced that add much to the interest in the play. Among these are a race between a train and an automobile, a horse race that for thrills pushes the Kenda Derby of the stage, and a wedding scene that is superb, even in the movies. I have no predictions to make as to the outcome of the race. I am positive I have a great ball club and feel certain the boys will prove it. The Browns lost the pennant by only one game last year. We may do even better this year. I am hopeful that Sisker will have fully recovered as he means much to my club. His absence from the game for any great length of time would prove very serious.

Harvard Wrestling Instructor Wins Handicap Match From Famous Pole Substitute for Stasiack Makes 'Good' — Marshall Wins

Frank Glasgow, wrestling instructor, Harvard, who came here to meet Stanek Zhyzsky, when Stanley Stansky of an injury which rendered him a giant Pole at bay for one full hour strenuous and skillful grappling in the ring. The match was a wrestling contest conducted by the Polish, Patryk Ciescinski, and by a soldier here, I declare the winner.

Stanley Stansky, a three-hundred pounder, weighed in at an hour, but he had to negotiate a fall, Judson, but twenty pounds lighter than Zhyzsky, and he fought the best of his kind, he fought himself from seemingly impossible holds. The bout opened up the first and foremost, Zbyszko found it was a most worthy fight and ap-

Eddie Courtney, alleged by Chicago police to have a court record.

Eddie Kaufman, Chicagoan, recently arrested while allegedly heading a convey of beer runners and now under federal indictment also.

Another man, William J. Riley, Antioch (Ill.) saloonkeeper, is being held as a state witness, accused of having received $1000 from Chicago "fixers," of which he paid $350 to Field and held out on the balance.

The indictments charge that Courtney and Kaufman did the "fixing," and that Field accepted the bribe.

Kaufman is the only defendant who has been taken into custody up to date. His $5000 bail was signed by Russell B. Edwards, a brother of Judge Claire C. Edwards, who presided over Governor Small's trial.

One excerpt of the lengthy indictments charges:

"That one John B. Field was, by corrupt agreement and corrupt promise to pay a bribe in money and promise of remunerative employment, made to him and agreed upon by him, corruptly biased and partial to said Len Small, and did qualify to serve as a fair and impartial juror in this cause and proceeding.

"That Edward Kaufman, known as B. Morrison and Edward Courtney, known as E. Morgan, did conspire to obstruct and impede the course of justice and did unlawfully and feloniously conspire with divers persons whose names are unknown to this grand jury, did knowingly conceal from the court the corruption and bias of the said John B. Field, and did knowingly bring about a verdict of not guilty of the said Len Small without regard to the evidence, and did bribe a juror in the proceedings to be paid therefor $350."

Small Calls It Plot

Gov. Small brands the probe as a "further wicked attempt to besmirch my reputation for political reasons."

He charges Atty. Gen. Brundage, with whom he has long been at loggerheads, as being one of the many forces behind the investigation.

State's Attorney Smith says that the probe has "only begun," and that by the time all the evidence is in "many sensational bombshells will be exploded."

FEAR OF FRENCH BLOCKS PEACE IN EUROPE

BY WILLIAM PHILIP RIMMS
Special Cable to N.E.A. Service and The Lowell Sun

BRUSSELS, April 17.—The one big stumbling block in the way of peace in the Ruhr—and in Europe—is France's fear of a reconstructed Germany, again powerful and capable of annihilating France if left to face her alone.

President Wilson saw this when he agreed with Britain to stand by France in the event of unprovoked aggression on the part of Germany.

antees against such a fate will ever hedge France from astride the Rhine. If Great Britain will not give it to her, nor America, nor the two together, then France will follow out a policy of her own—a "safety first" policy—from which nothing short of superior force can turn her.

That is my outstanding impression after visits to Paris, London, Berlin and the cluster of German Pittsburghs which merge, one city into another, here in the Ruhr.

Washington May

I have means of knowing the government at Washington as well as that at London constantly is putting out feelers both in Paris and Berlin.

Berlin, I know, is anxious to reach a settlement. And so is Paris. The which is not over the actual question of reparations, for Poincaré is still willing to accept 250,000,000 gold marks in addition to what Germany has already paid on account.

The problem which the United States and Britain have to solve, if they are to act as arbitrators in the Ruhr dispute, is how France may be secured against another German invasion.

Whatever objections Premier Poincaré may have to Secretary Hughes' plan to have a commission of experts ascertain how much Germany can pay are not because he fears they would fix upon a too small sum but because the plan does not take into consideration France's national security.

A combination of the Hughes plan to determine the question of reparations and Lord Robert Cecil's suggestion that the League of Nations work out a scheme which would satisfy France's anxiety for her own safety is not an impossibility.

But one thing is certain. France, left by her two strongest allies—America and Britain—to face Germany alone, has leaved astride the Rhine.

She is in the Ruhr, Germany's one big industrial center, without which Germany would find it very difficult to wage a successful war.

And there France will stay until either she can get the life insurance she is after or until she hammers out a guarantee for herself and in her own way, let anyone object who may.

EVEN TODAY IN SOME COUNTRIES WOMEN—YOKED WITH OXEN—SHARE THE CRUEL DRUDGERY OF PLOWING THE FIELDS

Drudgery Tears Down—Destroys—Kills

THE blindfolded Samson, shorn of his strength, stumbling around and around, turning the mill-wheels—that's drudgery.

The same cruelly hard task—day in and day out—no change—no hope for change—monotonous, back-aching work—that's Drudgery.

And the history of womankind has been the story of a bitter struggle against the soul-crushing bonds of DRUDGERY.

But bit by bit womankind has gained ground—SHE'S COMING INTO HER OWN AT LAST.

Countless women from foreign countries have for the first time learned in this country the utter uselessness of the countless self-enforced drudgeries they have suffered under in the past.

For the American woman doesn't follow hidebound custom merely because it is custom.

She wants to know WHY.

And the woman who asks herself that question IS GOING TO GET SOMEWHERE.

She does not keep on breaking her back and eating out her heart over some daily drudgery just because her great-grandmother happened to do things that way.

She asks why so long and so hard that finally THE WORLD SITS UP AND TAKES NOTICE. And then the world sits down and helps her find the answer.

A woman at one time had to do the work of a hired man before she could earn the reputation of being a "good wife."

Not today, however.

Let's take, for an example, the Family Wash. Let's briefly retrace the road taken by the Family Wash through the last few thousand years.

Four thousand years ago the over-worked Egyptian housewife squatted on the banks of the Nile and rubbed and beat clothes on rocks until she was HARDLY ABLE TO TOTTER HOME.

By the time the Middle Ages had rolled around, Frenchwomen had thought of using rough boards on which to scrub the Family Wash. In Revolutionary America women did the same.

Our great-grandmothers still rubbed and scrubbed on rough wash-boards and used crude, harsh, home-made soaps, lye soaps that ate holes into clothes like wildfire.

* * *

Then came bar soap—good soap—excellent soap—but it, too, had to be rubbed in to get results, and backs still ached over the wash-boards. Monday was STILL BLUE MONDAY.

But women were beginning to question

more and more this terrible weekly drudgery. WHY SHOULD THEY BE SUBMITTED WEEK AFTER WEEK TO THIS TORTURE?

And the more they complained and questioned the harder science worked for an answer.

The first big step in this direction was a soap—yet more than a soap—flakes, pure crystalline flakes—flakes that cleansed with never an effort and without harm the finest of silks and all other delicate and sheer fabrics.

This was Lux—now in the home of almost every woman in this land.

Only one more step to the Family Wash—and it has been taken.

* * *

Today, there is a new soap—RINSO—THAT IS FREEING MILLIONS—yes literally millions—of women the world over from the deadly, nerve-racking drudgery of scrubbing and rubbing their lives away on the big Family Wash.

In short—what Lux does for fine fabrics, Rinso does for the family wash.

Wherever you used to use bar soap use this new soap—RINSO.

You don't have to change your method of washing. If you use stationary tubs, if you have a washing machine or if you boil—it's all the same—only let the clothes soak for an hour or more in the rich Rinso suds—and you will be saved the ordeal of that back-breaking rubbing.

State Seeks Ruling Under Which it Can Try Governor Again

BY ROY GIBBONS

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 17.—Governor Len Small, acquitted here last summer on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of interest on public funds, may be compelled to face trial again under the same charges despite the constitutional provision which forbids placing anyone in jeopardy more than once for the same offense.

This is the opinion of State Attorney A. V. Smith, now pushing a grand jury probe into the alleged plot to bribe members of the panel which returned a "not guilty" verdict for Small after months of trial which cost taxpayers thousands of dollars.

Smith bases his statement, he says, on the probable outcome of a case now before the supreme court which will decide once and for all whether any defendant may be twice tried for the same crime provided the existence of fraud in his first hearing can be proved.

Seventeen Charges

So far the investigation has resulted in indictment of three men. Each is specifically accused in voluminous true bills on 17 counts including:

Conspiracy to obstruct justice.
Conspiracy to bribe a juror.
Conspiracy to do an unlawful act.
Conspiracy to have a juror answer questions.

Conspiracy to have a juror qualified.

Those indicted are:
John Binney Field, a juror in the Small trial and Antioch (Ill.) village hero and baseball player, who was an-

Jack Daw in Candy Land. Chapter 23

At this moment Flip started to growl. This startled Jack and he said, "What's the matter, Flip?" Another low growl was the reply. Then Jack noticed that all the Nut Fudges were looking off into the distance. "It's a Candy Land cyclone," shouted Caramel. "Everybody had better run for shelter."

But before they knew it the cyclone was upon them. Great white puffs came circling by. Jack looked about him and noticed that the little Nut Fudges were gradually fading from his sight. And Caramel, too, was suddenly out of view. Flip clung close to Jack and continued growling.

What harm can a candy cyclone do to me, thought Jack. And he decided to stay right where he was and see what this cyclone would do. Thicker and thicker grew the white puffs. Then they started forming into a queer mass just in front of Jack and his dog, Flip. (Continued.)

FATE OF LITTLE DORIS

Case of Girl Held By Blacks Will Come Up in Parliament

BY N.E.A. Service
LONDON, April 17.—The fate of a fair-skinned little English girl of seven soon will occupy the attention of the British parliament and turn the sober lawmakers from their debates on matters of world-wide interest affecting the greatest empire on earth.

And because of parliament's interest in her, the little girl, Doris Hawker, probably will be taken away from her black foster-parents who are holding her at Madras, India, and will be brought back to her native England.

Here is Doris' strange story. Doris was one of the children in a London orphanage. She watched daily as women came, bent on adopting lit-ple, so eager was she to meet her new parents with whom she was to be so happy in this strange country. Then she met them—and recoiled in terror.

They were dark-skinned people and seemed to have a weird, foreign atmosphere about them. When they spoke to each other, they used a strange tongue Doris couldn't understand.

They were kind, but Doris was none the less thoroughly afraid. And her terror increased when the strange pair took her to their home—a little, squat dwelling, surrounded by narrow, ill-lighted and smelly streets.

There were no children in those streets save dark-skinned ones who made faces at Doris and shouted words that had no meaning for her.

Weeks and Days
So every night Doris would cry herself to sleep and pray that she might be returned to people of her own kind.

Perhaps it was her prayers—but anyway the news of the irregular adoption leaked out in England. It aroused public indignation everywhere.

And now Harry Becker, member of parliament, says he'll take Doris' problem before the house of commons.

"I intend to show," says Becker, "that Doris' foster-parents represented themselves as English people while, in reality, they are native blacks of the lowest caste. She is being held in a native quarter, under conditions unsuitable for any English girl. I want her brought back."

And Doris, over in Madras, hopes parliament will listen kindly to Becker.

Then came a bright day. An attendant told Doris a home had been found for her. And how happy Doris was!

"But your new mother and that are in India," the attendant added. "They are wealthy English people who live there. You'll be put on the ship today and they'll meet you when the ship reaches port."

So Doris, over so gay and happy, was put on board the big liner. And the ship traveled and traveled for so many days Doris couldn't count them.

Then they came to a strange country, where the sun was hotter than it ever had been in England, where people were flowing white garments and wrapped things that looked like towels around their heads.

GAVE CHARMING RECITAL PORTRAIT OF EDWARDS

Members of Middlesex Women's Club Hear Miss Edith Bennett, Soprano

Members of the Middlesex Women's club turned out in large numbers yesterday afternoon to hear Miss Edith Bennett, soprano, of Concord, N. H., whose rise in musical circles has been marked by exceptional rapidity and whose attainments now make her much sought after as a recitalist.

Miss Bennett's musical education and training is entirely American and perhaps on this account not a small amount of interest is attached to hearing her. Also, she is an interesting singer. Yesterday, for instance, she chose to sing compositions not at all along the beaten track, compositions from the pens of music masters whose names are not generally seen on local programs, at least, and it is fair to say they made up a recital of unusual charm.

Singing in a hall no larger than the meeting place of the women's club, it was evident that Miss Bennett made no attempt to parade her voice in all its power, for Colonel Hall is too restricted in size and the fact that she seemed to realize this and suited her tone volume to the atmosphere was ample proof of her intelligent artistry. That there was ample power in reserve was very apparent.

Beautiful indeed were the effects attained by Miss Bennett in a group of French songs and to all her numbers she gave a generous touch of individuality to make each one stand out as a finished effort.

Miss Bennett received splendid support from her accompanist, Rodney Saylor, who was sharp to bring out the mood of every song and bring to the fore qualities one less expert than he might have missed.

The program in full follows:

ACCIDENT BOARD CASES AT CITY HALL TODAY

As a result of a conference held this morning at city hall between John H. Cogswell of the Industrial Accident board and City Solicitor O'Sullivan, the compensation of Anthony Burns, a former employee of the street department, was ordered stopped, the order dating back to March 31.

Burns, who is a veteran of the world war, lost his right arm on the battlefield. Some time last year he was given employment by the street department as a watchman in Bridge street, during the reconstruction of the Central bridge. On October 3 of the same year, he was struck by an automobile and sustained injuries to his left arm. He was treated at St. John's hospital and was paid a compensation by the city under the workman's compensation act. In the latter part of March, Burns, who had fully recovered from the injuries sustained while on his work, became troubled with his right arm, and was sent to a government hospital, where he is still confined, and it is for this reason that the city has requested and obtained permission from the industrial accident board to discontinue his compensation.

Mr. Cogswell also presided over a hearing in the aldermanic chamber at city hall this morning in the case of Mrs. Emma Grant, an employee of the Massachusetts mill, who on December 1 last fractured her collar bone while performing her regular duties at the plant. Mrs. Grant requests further compensation and was represented this morning by James Henry Gilbride. The insurer, the American Mutual company, was represented by Fred A. Lavelle of Boston.

Another hearing was held in the case of George Tavern against the American Mutual company. Tavern, an employee of the Appleton company, sustained internal injuries while lifting a box at the mill and was later operated upon. The operation was successful and Tavern returned to work February 9. The hearing was held for the purpose of discontinuing compensation and the request was granted.

GOLD FOR RALLIERS
Fred Hallinger, for a number of years owner of the Silosia Worsted mill in North Chelmsford, has secured his connections with the company to accept the position of assistant superintendent of the Saxony mills in Newton. Upon leaving, he will Mr. Hallinger was presented a purse of gold by the other owners of the plant, who also wished him success in his new venture.

Lowell Teachers' Organization Presents Portrait of General to Lowell Post

The Lowell Teachers' Organization last night presented to Lowell Post, American Legion, a splendid portrait of Gen. Charles R. Edwards, commander of the Yankee division, to be hung in the Legion quarters at the Memorial Auditorium. Because of the enforced absence from the city of Miss Caroline A. Downey, president of the organization, the gift was presented by letter and graciously accepted for the post by Commander Joseph A. Molloy.

Miss Downey's letter of presentation follows:

Members of the American Legion, Post 87, Lowell, Mass.
Friends:—The members of the Lowell Teachers' Organization, desirous of showing their appreciation of the services rendered by the Lowell boys in the World War, present this portrait of Gen. Edwards, the gallant commander of the famous 26th division, to the local post of the American Legion. Our members feel a personal interest in the Legion, since many of the boys who gave their lives in the World War, and many of those who came home, were once pupils in our schools. Their teachers are proud of them as loyal citizens of our city.

Since the people of Lowell have erected such a magnificent building in your honor and that of your departed comrades, we deem it a privilege to help adorn the walls of your headquarters.

We hope when you gaze on this picture the same feeling of patriotism will be aroused in you as in the days when you were serving your country.

Very truly yours,
CAROLINE A. DOWNEY,
Pres. Lowell Teachers' Organization.

During the Legion meeting an urgent request was made that all members participate in the parade Wednesday evening in connection with the meeting under the auspices of the Organized Reserve and that they meet together at 7:15 p. m.

A committee composed of Charles A. Stevens, Joseph A. Molloy, Colin C. Macdonald and James P. O'Donoghue was appointed to maintain liaison between the post and the G.A.R. and Spanish War Veterans.

LOWELL ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY CONCERT

If all reports are true about the concert, the Society for Wednesday evening, April 18th, at the central hall, there is no doubt but that a very large audience will greet the repurchase of the one organization representing Lowell's best instrumentalists. Their performance of recognized standards, as well as those by all large orchestras throughout the country. The popular price of fifty cents introduced by the Society for such a large measure by the numerous classes of the community.

FOR BENEFIT OF CAR SHOP STRIKERS

A smoke talk and entertainment for the benefit of the Boston & Maine car shop strikers will be held tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Pawtucketville Social club. The affair will be held in the quarters of the organization at the corner of Moody st. and Gresham avenue and it is expected it will be largely attended. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Zenon Morrisette, chairman; Arthur H. Giroux and Frank Alford.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Grace Lanthier, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Harry Tetra, was recently tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home. The affair was largely attended and all present spent a most enjoyable evening. The coming woman was showered with handsome and valuable gifts and the entertainment which followed, included a most agreeable participation in Miss Lanthier's friends. Miss Lanthier's friends and Miss Lanthier's friends were served. The affair was in charge of Miss Cella Noel and Mrs. Alice Lanthier.

The second annual recital of the pupils of Miss Charlotte M. Greene, teacher of social and ball room dancing, will be held Friday evening 20th instant, in Colonial hall and the event promises to be a most enjoyable social function. Special features will be introduced of a patriotic character illustrating the hall room recollections in which Miss Greene is an adept. The reception is not confined to the pupils.

Captain Joseph M. Reilly, local representative of the 34th division, organized reserves, will be at the Sun office Friday and Saturday evenings to meet any who may wish to sign up in this unit. The demand at present is for non-commissioned officers, but there are still a few vacancies for officers and specialists in the many branches of this service.

Continued

The Saco-Lowell is ready to begin the erection of its first new plant, running along Dutton street from Broadway for a distance of 400 feet, just as soon as buildings now on that portion of the land are demolished. Within a year this new structure would be completed, according to estimates of engineers.

Although the council is interested in this first building, it is in relation to further expansion that the councilors are particularly concerned, especially in regard to when the company would erect the twin to the first building and use land to be made available by the closing of Worthen street. It is believed that this phase of the matter will receive considerable discussion tonight.

Several councilors when seen and questioned on the proposition today said they are particularly interested in the plans for the rear part of the land, that part which includes Worthen street and runs back as far as holdings of the Locks and Canals Corp. The first building to be erected will have a depth of 80 feet, which would not carry it back as far as the Worthen street line and this plant could be erected without disturbing the street in any particular. If further plans provide for the erection of the second building at a definite time, there will be little or no opposition to the proposition, it is believed. If, however, such plans are indefinite, opponents may be found within the council.

The gray frame dwelling houses now being torn down in Kitson street have been, with others, similarly constructed in that area, landmarks for years. Many people are unable to visualize that neighborhood without them and their passing brings a sentimental twinge to persons who associate them with Lowell's earlier life.

It is the intention of the Saco-Lowell officials to raze these buildings just as rapidly as they become vacant and their tenants are comfortably housed elsewhere. The company has done everything possible to aid its tenants to find other homes and with its own trucks has been of great assistance in the work of moving household effects.

TWO OFFICERS KILLED HARRY P. KNAPP DEAD

Shot to Death in Battle With Rum-runners Near Violet, Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—Deputy Sheriff Bob Estep of St. Bernard parish and federal prohibition officer August Esteve were shot and killed in a fight with rum-runners at the Lake Borgne Canal bridge near Violet, La., early today, according to a report received at police headquarters. A body was found at each end of the bridge. It was reported that one of the runners received a bullet wound.

Head of Talbot Dyeing & Chemical Co., Passed Away Last Night

Harry P. Knapp, owner of the Talbot Dyeing and Chemical Co. and one of Lowell's best known business men, died last night, aged 51 years. Although in failing health for two months or more, he had been able to give some attention to his business affairs and his sudden death came as a shock to his friends and associates who had anticipated a return to normal health. Mr. Knapp's connections with the Talbot Co. cover many years and for

PUBLIC INVITED TO HEAR SENATOR WALSH

An invitation is extended to the public by the chamber of commerce to hear United States Senator David I. Walsh tomorrow noon in Liberty hall. Accommodations for luncheon will be completely filled but the balcony will be opened to the public at 12:30, thus giving people time enough to be seated before the senator starts his speech. As far as is known now Senator Walsh will motor to Lowell to be met at the Auditorium by a reception committee headed by J. Hutchins Parker of the chamber of commerce. Because the senator has been busy addressing many organizations in various cities the past week it has been difficult to reach him, so that local chamber of commerce officials will not know definitely until early tomorrow morning of his arrival.

CANADIAN CHECKER CHAMPION HERE

Harry L. Bailey of Dorchester, self styled checker champion of Canada, is in this city, playing against the pick of the Lowell enthusiasts. He has already played matches at the Broadway Social and Athletic club and the South End club, and in the immediate future he will meet several of the best home players at the Y.M.C.A. Bailey has been active in checkers since his boyhood days. It is a common occurrence for him to play from 50 to 100 games while blindfolded, against capable players, and emerge victor in practically every contest. In 1919 he defeated Alfred Jordan, then the world's champion. Recently he played a draw match with Newell Blanks, the American champion, in Boston.

SALE OF PART OF BARTLETT ESTATE

Another large real estate deal has been put through and agreements signed today by Martin Robbins & Son, 45 Merrimack street. The property involved is a part of the estate of the late Erasmus A. Bartlett of Chelmsford, Mass., and was purchased by Samuel Pudin and Bennett Silver, both of this city for twenty-one percent of the value. The property involved consists of the following described premises: A 9-tenement block numbered 558-565 Broadway with 4816 square feet of land; 2-tenement houses in Mill court with 1399 square feet of land; a cottage house at 109 Aiken avenue, with 3622 square feet of land; a 6-tenement property at 55-57-59 Agawam street with 12,429 square feet of land. The purchase price is not made public.

BROKEN TROLLEY WIRE TIES UP TRAFFIC

Trolley service on the Lakewood line was tied up for a short while early this morning when a trolley wire broke near the stone crusher, just beyond Parker avenue. Only one trolley was affected, temporary repairs being made immediately, and service was normal again at 6:30. Merrimack Park opens again next Thursday, for the day, and extra cars will be available for use on that line if riding becomes heavy. This park manager expects that dances will be held there one or two nights a week from now on until the weather is warm enough for the park to remain open all the time.

WILL ALLOWED IN THE PROBATE COURT

The following wills were allowed in the probate court today, Euclid Page, Odine Drown, Ida Pitts, Emma Gilbert, all of Lowell. The following administrations were allowed by Judge Legat, Vincent Savus, George Levesque, Francis X. Travers, Margaret O'Loughlin, Oliver C. Blason, all of Lowell. A divorce was granted Zahorona E. Kalinosides from George Kalinosides, on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment. Beatrice Griffin was granted a divorce from Charles E. Griffin.

MAYOR WILL NOT SIGN PAYROLL

Mayor John J. Donovan, following out his refusal to approve wage increases for employees of the water works, will not sign the weekly payroll of that department when presented to him if it provides for an increase of 70 cents per day as granted by the board of public service. City Auditor Daniel E. Martin had not received the water department payroll for last week this noon, but will, as usual, present it to the mayor for signature as soon as it is at hand.

AMOUNT OF FIRE LOSS AT THE MANN SCHOOL

With the amount of fire loss at the Mann school, occupied by the Lowell Vocational school, practically agreed upon between adjusters for the city and the insurance companies holding policies on the building and contents, the city will receive approximately $12,000. This figure is considerably below the amount of estimated loss and is more than covered by the insurance carried, which amounted to $17,500.

EAGLES, NOTICE!

The next regular meeting of Lowell Aerie will be held Tuesday evening, April 17, at 7:45. Election of delegates to the Massachusetts State Aerie convention which will be held at Lawrence, will take place at this meeting. Per order, TIMOTHY E. BARRY, W. Pres. JOHN M. HOGAN, Sec.
